Marine Boss Criticizes Defense Shakeup

Pate Most Outspoken Critic Yet

McElroy Says Plan Rules Out Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps commandant said today that if Congress enacts President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan as written, some future secretary of defense may give the Marine Corps "the bum's rush."

Individualities Stay

At the same time the House Armed Services Committee received written assurance from Secretary of Defense McElroy that his department has no intention of making "a sweeping realignment of the services or their administration." He said any merger of services would be expressly forbidden by the proposed law.

"The Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps retain their respective individualities," McElroy wrote.

Gen. Randolph M. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, appeared before the committee to deliver the most outspoken opposition yet voiced by any service witness to features of the administration proposal.

Major Criticism

Pate said he finds it difficult to see how sections of the present law which spell out the roles and missions of each service "can be regarded as unduly restrictive, other than by some future secretary of defense who intended sooner or later to alter the Marines' status and functions."

Pate thus tied his major criticism of the administration proposal to the section which has aroused perhaps the most hostility among members of the committee — Eisenhower's recommendation that these sections spelling out the job of each military service be repealed.

The President gave new evidence Wednesday night of his intention to fight for the principles of his plan, which he summed up in the phrase "safety with solvency."

Ike Gives Views

Speaking at a dinner of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Eisenhower said "we must have a single theory of defending our country" and that the strengthening of the military establishment must be done in the most economical way. He said, "I want to see America's defense machinery so strong as a single American mind and determination can make it. . . ."

The House Armed Services Committee is working on its own bill.

Testifying before the committee, Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, spoke up for the administration bill, which would strengthen the authority of the secretary of defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff while removing the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force from the direct chain of command.

But Burke said the wording of

Garden Street Is First for Repair

Garden Street is the first in the city to be rebuilt this year, Max Oppenheimer, acting public works superintendent said today.

Anyone on the street having any type work requiring street excavating, he advised, should do it at the time the street project is under way. If they have any type of service line replacement, addition or improvement, he said, they can now get pavement replacement without cost.

All of the city's aldermen have been asked to submit lists of streets in their wards needing repair or rebuilding. Mayor Edwin F. Radel indicated today that the full list of work to be done should be completed by the end of this week or early next week.

Frondizi Pledges Law, Justice as Argentine Leader

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Arturo Frondizi was sworn in today as president of Argentina's first democratic government in more than a decade. He promised a rule of law and justice.

The tall, bespectacled lawyer took the oath before a joint session of the new Congress, ending 2½ years of provisional military government since the overthrow of Juan D. Peron's dictatorship.

Nixon at Ceremony

U.S. Vice President Nixon and other visiting dignitaries watched. Alejandro Gomez, Frondizi's running mate in the left-of-center Radical Party, then was sworn in as vice president.

Frondizi said the first bill his government will submit "will be ample and generous amnesty," and all parties will become free to carry on political activity.

To this obvious reference to the outlawed Peronista party he added that he was voted into office by the great majority of Argentine citizens, including Peron followers.

Stepping down are two heroes of the 1955 revolution, Provisional President (Maj. Gen.) Pedro Aramburu and Vice President (Adm.) Isaac Rojas. They are fulfilling a promise to turn over power to constitutionally elected officials.

Elected by Landslide

Frondizi, leader of the left-of-center Intransigent Radical party, was swept into government house by an electoral landslide Feb. 23. Along with him came a Senate entirely from his party and a healthy majority in the House of Deputies.

The 49-year-old President faces a host of problems, including a runaway cost of living, a dollar deficit, nationalist demands that foreign firms keep away from Argentine oil and other resources in need of development, and the demands of Peronists — who helped elect him — for a return to political respectability.

Bids Due June 3 on Ferry Site

Kingston Likely To Make Offer

Sealed bids for sale of the former Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry property near the juncture of Ferry Street and East Strand will be received by the New York State Bridge Authority June 3, it was learned today.

Blank forms on which proposals are to be made are to be supplied by the authority without charge upon request made to the authority at its office, Mid-Hudson Bridge Plaza, Poughkeepsie. Bids will be opened at 2 p. m., on the date of sale.

Won't Give $20,000

The city is expected to be represented in the bidding. It rejected the authority's offer to sell the property at $20,000.

The authority said it "reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, and may readvertise for new proposals, if, in its opinion, the best interests of the state will thereby be promoted."

Notice of the bidding date said the property has a frontage of 113 feet on Ferry Street with a 2½-story frame building about 28 by 40 feet, with an open shed covering the remainder of the property. It also has a ferry slip extending about 51 feet along the edge of the Rondout creek.

Rhinebeck Votes $5,000

Kingston was interested in the property as a fire-prevention and fire training facility, but both the administrations of former Mayor Frederick H. Stang, and Edwin F. Radel, incumbent, considered the price too high.

The Town of Rhinebeck, Dutchess County, through a referendum, decided to buy the ferry terminal property on the other side of the river for $5,000. It was considered there also for its fire-protection value, because a road from the terminal over the New York Central Railroad tracks into Rhinecliff will be maintained, and because part of the property can be used for park purposes.

Apparel Trade Is First in State, Census Reports

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The U. S. Bureau of the Census reports that the No. 1 manufacturing industry in New York State is the apparel trade and related products.

The industry led last year in the value of its output, in the number of production workers and in the amount of wages paid, the bureau said in its 1956 annual survey of manufacturers.

The trade's output value was put at $2,248,545,000. Its 340,879 production workers were paid $973,135,000.

The second industry in the value of its output was printing and publishing—$1,885,958,000. It employed 99,788 production workers and paid $457,384,000.

Third was food and kindred products, with a value of $1,477,612,000, production employment of 104,890 and payroll of $407,271,000.

Business, Industry, Homeowners to Help

The months of May and June have been designated as the period during which the Statewide "Do-It-Now" campaign will be stressed in Kingston and the entire Kingston area.

This decision was made at an enthusiastic meeting last night of a steering committee appointed by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, chairmaned by Kenneth C. Pratt. The committee represented district businessmen's associations and several trade groups.

In making this announcement today Pratt invited the cooperation and support of all business and industry to help off-set the temporary recession. "Doing it now or buying it now will start the ball rolling and help create full employment, which means prosperity for everyone," Pratt said.

Organizations Cooperate

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce will serve as a coordinating office for the program and aid in supplying promotional material, although the various business organizations, industry, professional groups and individuals, will develop their own specific programs and promotions.

The over-all program has been launched by numerous statewide organizations including the AFL-CIO Council, the State Commerce Department, the Empire State Chamber of Commerce, the State Retail Merchant's Council, the New York State Conference of Mayors, the Association of Towns, and others.

The local coordinating committee believes that concerted action of business, industry homeowners and individuals will have a very beneficial effect in off-setting the detrimental influences of the current temporary recession.

Favorable Factors

Pratt called attention to the many positive local indications of confidence in the future and stressed the need for everyone to do and buy now the things they need. Several of the favorable factors pointed out were: (1) Deposits in lending and saving institutions in Kingston and throughout the state are at an all-time high. (2) The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. and the New York Telephone Co., have, and are spending millions of dollars locally on expanded and improved facilities. (3) The construction of the new plant of the Hudson Cement Company on North Street. (4) The fine new factory of the Ulster Tool & Die Corporation on Hurley Avenue Extension. (5) The new Engineering Research Building at the IBM plant. (6) The parking lot project sponsored by Uptown Merchants. (7) The fine new nurse's home at the

Few Texans Leave Homes as Flood Waters Continue

DALLAS (AP) — Rivers and streams, hoped up on eight days of rain, surged across broad sections of north and east Texas today. But an expected crest on the Trinity at Dallas failed to materialize.

Police ordered some 2,500 persons evacuated from South Dallas Wednesday night, but all but a few dozen families refused to move.

Well Below Crest

The Trinity hit 33.7 feet this morning and continued to rise slowly. That was 3.7 feet above flood stage but well below the major flood stage of 38 feet.

Schools were closed in several east Texas areas and some operators abandoned their oil wells.

The mayor at Atlanta, Tex., M. P. Ellis, declared his east Texas town a disaster area. He said he did it as a precautionary measure.

Warned of Danger

"You must get out! You must get out! Your lives are in danger," the police loud-speakers

Palsy Drive Opens Today For $32,000 in County

A month-long financial drive with a goal of $32,000 was officially launched today by supporters of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Clinic.

Three-quarters of the total amount collected will be retained locally to continue the services of Kingston's own Center at 400 Broadway.

Open Year-Round

The Center, operating on a year-round basis, affords each child individual treatment, ranging from a half to one hour per session. Age group of the children ranges from six months to 18 years.

Richard McNaughton, industrial chairman for the "53-Minute March" on Cerebral Palsy, said that the goal for his division is $13,000.

McNaughton, administrative assistant to the general manager at the local IBM plant, had this to say about the current drive:

"Every businessman knows it is good, sound business to support a worthy cause, particularly when it is one which helps handicapped persons to become salf-sufficient. We must help the Cerebral Palsied along the path to gainful employment.

Important Manpower Source

"Industry recognizes this source of handicapped manpower as an extremely important one and wants to do its part in helping them," McNaughton added.

Vice-chairman of the CP drive is Robert Hasbrouck, a project manager at the local IBM plant.

Chester A. Baltz Jr., C. A. Baltz & Sons, Inc., William F. Edelmuth, former mayor of Kingston; Charles Forst, Forst Packing Co., Inc., Eugene A. Freer, Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., Inc., Stephen Gill, Ulster County Building and Trades Council; Joseph E. Honig, Max Ulman Inc., John W. McFadden, Feuer Moving and Storage Inc., John E. Purvis, Island Dock Lumber Inc., William J. Teegan, International Business Machines Inc., and Ferris C. Williams, Ulster Foundry and Machines Corp.

Moscow Fails to Display New Weapons In Shortest May Day Parade in Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Workers' parades and speeches of labor leaders around the world today marked May Day, the ancient spring festival which is now an international labor celebration outside the United States. Moscow's demonstration emphasized civilian labor and held the annual military parade to 15 minutes.

Communists and non-Communists alike took the day off in many nations for demonstrations. U. S. workmen, who celebrate the first Monday in September, worked as usual.

Mindful of past workers' clashes on May Day in some countries, police forces of many nations were tense.

Demonstrations ranged from the annual Moscow parade, in which an estimated million persons participated, to small rallies in many nations.

In Moscow, the brief display of conventional military equipment rumbled through Red Square, followed by a sports display and Moscow residents marching before Soviet leaders and U. A. R. President Nasser. It was the shortest May Day military march in years and no new weapons were shown. The day's speaker, Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, sounded the usual fulminations against the West and the usual Soviet promises of peace through strength.

Communist East Germany, in a 40 - minute display of military trucks, antiaircraft and antitank guns, heavy howitzers and the first T34 Soviet medium tanks seen in East Berlin.

In the Western sector of the divided city, a demonstration began with the slogan "Peace-Freedom-Progress."

Peiping radio said half a million Chinese Communist workers, peasants and students paraded before Premier Chou En-lai "in unprecedentedly high spirits."

Some 300,000 Japanese demonstrated peacefully in Tokyo. The workers supported the Socialist opposition with demands for the defeat of the conservative government in coming parliamentary elections.

As usual, all U.S. military personnel in Japan were ordered to stay away from the demonstrators. Such orders to servicemen in Europe also have been standard for years to avoid May Day incidents.

Coalition Increases GOP Hopes

Jobless Pay Bill Faces House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House starts voting today on a bill for emergency unemployment relief with many Southern Democrats lining up behind the Eisenhower administration program.

Emergence of a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democratic conservatives against the broader Democratic plan for federal relief grants raised the hope of GOP leaders of winning the crucial test, possibly late today.

Halleck Sees Victory

The showdown comes when Republican leaders put up the Eisenhower bill as a substitute for the measure sent to the House by Ways and Means Committee Democrats.

"It looks to me like the administration substitute is going over," reported Rep. Halleck of Indiana, assistant GOP floor leader.

If the House passes the Democratic version, Halleck said, "I think I can say with confidence it will be vetoed."

Discount Strength

Democratic leaders discounted the strength of the coalition, however, and predicted their bill would win on a roll call vote.

Foes of the Democratic proposal leveled their main attack at a provision to give federal relief grants to idled workers not now eligible for benefits under the fed-

April Douses City With 4.75 Inches Of Rain in Month

April gave spring its budding start with weather of nearly average scope, but some of its rains were a lot more than showers.

It produced 4.75 inches of rain and one day of record temperature in the annals of the city engineer's office. That was April 18 when the mercury reached 78 degrees. It was no record for the month, however, the mercury having hit the 80's on other dates in other years. Three days later last month the high temperature was 84, but that was no April 21st record.

Average temperature for the month was 52.5. The mean low was 42.4 and the mean high was 62.6 degrees.

The month added substantially to the year's average rainfall, to date, and brought the total since Jan. 1 to 10.6 inches.

HENRY P. EIGHMEY

Augustine Post Given to Eighmey On Police Board

Mayor Edwin F. Radel last night named Henry P. Eighmey, of 94 Highland Avenue to the Board of Police Commissioners to succeed Roland A. Augustine, of 74 Harding Avenue, who, as a Radel appointee, had served on the board only since mid-January.

Augustine was named to complete the unexpired term of Willis R. Locke, of 6 Smith Avenue, who had served on the board 16 years, and who said he resigned because he had reached the age at which members of the police force are automatically retired.

Draws Some Comment

Last night's appointment caused some surprise and drew some comment.

Augustine said at noon today he wanted to say for publication only that he was "happy to have served on the board. I handled the duties there to the best of my ability. I am glad to help with any community project at any time."

That was the extent of his statement as authorized for publication in The Freeman, but he was quoted as saying this morning when asked about the appointment: "All they are looking for is a rubber stamp."

Notified at 10 P. M.

Mayor Radel said today that he had notified the new commissioner of his appointment at about 10 p. m., yesterday.

Eighmey's term was due to start as of this date date. It extends to May 1, 1962.

Mayor Radel said today that he had no comment as to why the change was made.

The new commissioner, a native of Kingston, has been an employe of The Freeman for 24 years. He is on its advertising staff. He served for 10 years as

Favors Tax Stand Soon

Mitchell Calls Slash Effective Step

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today he feels the administration will have to decide within 30 to 60 days whether to recommend a tax cut.

Mitchell told a news conference that while the recession seems to be flattening out, as President Eisenhower said Wednesday, he sees no solid improvement ahead.

He said that once a decision is made that further anti-recession remedies are needed, he favors a tax slash as the most effective step.

The Labor secretary put it this way:

"If there is a bolstering of the economy necessary—and that determination has to be made reasonably soon—then, as opposed to any other form of government action, such as a large scale public works program, I would favor a tax cut.

"I think a decision should be made reasonably soon as to what needs to be done. I think within the next 30 to 60 days."

Mitchell was asked whether the administration would seek to persuade the steel industry not to make any price increases when a labor wage increase goes into effect in the industry July 1.

The secretary recalled that President Eisenhower has urged both labor and management to use voluntary restraint against increasing wages and prices. Mitchell added that anything beyond that would amount to government dictation, an area which he said should not be entered.

Asked whether a steel price increase would retard recovery from the recession, Mitchell replied that of course a continuing price spiral is undesirable.

The labor secretary said he is opposed to legislating a four-day work week. Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) has suggested that Congress study this.

Mitchell said he thinks that any reduction in the work week should be left to natural development, meaning labor-management collective bargaining. He said that any hours reduction, whether legislated or bargained, is unwise if it interferes with the nation's ability to produce.

Warning for Planes

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — An electronics indicator to warn pilots when other planes are dangerously close was shown at a meeting of electronics engineers. R. D. Foley of Aerojet-General Corp. said the aircraft warning device picks up infrared heat radiation from anything else in the sky.

Says Some Of Guests Got Away

Various Ties To Crime Are Noted

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Some of the delegates to the Apalachin gangland convention apparently escaped the state police roundup, Gov. Harriman's outgoing chief investigator reported today.

In a report to Harriman, Arthur L. Reuter named three men who he said were at or near Apalachin at the time but were not among the 60 men snared by raiding state troopers.

They are Charles Montana of Buffalo, Neil Migliore of Bayside, Queens, and John Larocca of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Reuter did not say these three attended the meeting at Joseph Barbara's hilltop mansion last Nov. 14. In fact, he said it was believed Migliore did not attend but merely drove others to the meeting.

Points to Presence

But he pointed to their presence as evidence that some of Barbara's guests might have escaped the roundup and as an indication that investigation of the Apalachin affair should be continued.

He said:

"Investigation to identify participants not included in the original roundup, already fruitful in disclosing the presence of John Larocca, Charles Montana and Neil Migliore at the scene, should be continued."

Report Made Public

Harriman made public Reuter's report a day after the state's new investigation commission met to take the crime-busting reins from Reuter, who was acting investigation commissioner, and the Legislature's Watchdog Committee.

The four members of the new unit, two Republicans and two Democrats agreed Wednesday that they should follow up the Reuter-Watchdog probes of the Apalachin meeting and of alleged crime and vice in Utica.

One of the members, Republican Jacob Grumet of New York City, planned to meet with Reuter today to take charge of the commissioner's files on these and other inquiries.

No Direct Conclusion

Like the Watchdog Committee, Reuter did not draw a precise conclusion about the reason for the Apalachin conclave.

He pointed out that arrest records of the delegates showed they had common interests in narcotics and illicit alcohol, gambling and union rackets.

"It must therefore be inferred," he said, "that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss problems relating to these illicit activities."

Howard Replaces Remus as Clerk In Public Works

Harry E. Howard, of 202 Smith Avenue, a former employe of the F. B. Matthews & Co., Inc., 166 Smith Avenue, and a member of the Ulster County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board today began his duties as a stock clerk in the city's public works department.

The appointment is on a provisional basis pending civil service approval. He replaced Donald Remus, of 58 Stephan Street, a public works laborer, who for some time had held the position on a provisional basis.

ABC Post Uncertain

Mayor Edwin F. Radel today indicated that it is still to be determined whether the appointment will affect the status of Howard as a member of the ABC Board.

The ABC appointments are made by the Board of Supervisors. County Attorney Arthur A. Davis Jr., was trying a case in Dutchess County today and could not be reached for an opinion.

Ferrow Pleads Innocent

Bruhn Points to Meaning of Law Day

Arthur Ferrow, 25, former Kingston resident, was arraigned in County Court Wednesday afternoon charged with having participated in the stickup at the Kingston Laundry on November 14, last. A plea of innocent was entered through his counsel Hubert A. Richter and 20 days granted for motions addressed to the indictment.

Ferrow was indicted in a John Doe indictment, which also alleged he was known as John Diego, along with John Harris, Marcus Sorgman and Gerald Schlesinger of Dorchester, Mass., for first degree robbery and second degree assault.

$10,000 Bail Posted

Bail in the sum of $10,000 on property in Greene County was posted. Ferrow was returned to Ulster County from Milford, Conn., on Tuesday. Local officials began looking for Ferrow after it was ascertained that four men, not three as reported by the trio first apprehended by local police, had come to Albany by plane. District Attorney St. John said yesteday that Ferrow was wanted for questioning in Brockton, Mass., about an armed robbery.

After ascertaining that four men had been aboard the plane from Boston, police officials began to check local people who might be in the Boston area and who were under suspicion. That led to Newton, Mass., and later to Ferrow who was picked up and returned to Kingston to face the indictment.

On motion of District Attorney St. John the John Doe "John Diego" indictment was amended to read "Arthur Ferrow."

The other three cases have been disposed of.

Other Cases

George Palmer Gulick, 30, of Esopus, was arraigned on a charge of abandoning his four children on June 20, 1957. He reportedly left New York State in mid-September but later surrendered himself to police authorities when he learned there was a warrant for him. A plea of innocent was entered and 20 days granted for motions. Judge Bruhn will assign counsel on TRADE OFFENSIVE—A more serious challenge to the West than Sputniks may be Russia's stepped-up, world-wide, trade-with-aid offensive. Besides the satellite nations already within the Red economic orbit, the Soviets are nibbling at the trade of Western Europe—a new commercial pact has just been signed with West Germany. An active part of the cold war economic battlefield are certain "neutral" and "uncommitted" nations such as the United Arab Republic, India and Indonesia. But also becoming prime targets for Russian loans and trade pacts are new areas in Africa and Latin America.

Pratt Will Head 'Do It Now' Group

Kenneth C. Pratt, affiliated with the Kingston Trust Co., will serve as chairman of a special "Do-it-Now" committee for the Kingston area, organized by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

A planning committee to organize a "Do-it-Now" or "Buy-it-Now" rogram has been named by Robert L. Sabin of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. This committee will meet in the Governor Clinton Hotel tonight to develop a comprehensive program.

At the planning meeting tonight the following will be present: James I. Lukehart of Kingston Buick, representing the car dealers; Daniel F. Weisberg of Weisberg's, representing the retailers, and Lawrence J. MacAvery has been asked to represent real estate brokers. The president of each sectional businessmen's association will be present or be represented. They are Henry Singer, downtown businessmen; Herbert C. Myers, Central businessmen; Theodore Musialkiewicz, of the Ulster-Albany Avenue Businessmen's Association and Joseph Scholar Jr., president of the Uptown Merchant's Association.

Sabin said that no effort will be made to encourage buying beyond requirements or beyond ability to pay. However, many people are apparently holding back which, in turn, causes further unemployment. "We hope the Do-It-Now or Buy-It-Now program will make a direct contribution to the unemployment situation and help off-set the temporary recession," Sabin said in announcing the meeeting scheduled for tonight.

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — In New York State, election-year politicking—like spring—is bustin' out all over.

The major parties are busy tilling the soil and planting the seed they hope will flower in November.

Big Years for All

This is a big year all the way around. Not only the governorship but a U. S. Senate seat and all seats in Congress and the Legislature, are at stake.

In the natural order of things, remnants of old election crops are being swept away first.

Half a dozen veteran state legislators and a long-time congressman — Republican Bernard W. (Pat) Kearney of Gloversville — have announced plans to retire.

Eager young politicians in the lower echelons are bidding for their jobs.

Ave Getting Anxious

Democratic Gov. Harriman has been bouncing around the state at campaign tempo since the bill-signing period ended. He wants a second term.

A likely Republican challenger, former National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, said this week he expected to declare himself in or out of the race before June 1.

Another, Nelson W. Rockefeller, bobbed up in the headlines with the Rockefeller brothers reports on the state of the nation and with a new state committee on the Constitution.

Other GOP possibilities, such as Rochester's Rep. Kenneth B. Keating and Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, hit the speech making trail and hacked away at Harriman.

Checkup for Ives

On the U. S. Senate front, Republican incumbent Irving W. Ives planned to have a head-to-toe physical checkup to determine whether he would be fit for another term.

There were sudden rumblings down Manhattan way for Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, a potential Democratic candidate.

But the man who calls the tune in those parts, Tammany Leader Carmine DeSapio, began making familiar noises in behalf of New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the unsuccessful candidate in 1956.

Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson, an open but formally undeclared candidate, claimed he was picking up support.

Pruning Is Due

Another member of Harriman's Albany team, Jonathan B. Bingham, the governor's secretary, decided to try for a state Senate seat in The Bronx. He once had designs on the U. S. Senate nomination.

So the spring planting of candidates is made. They will be pruned, of course, in the primary elections and at the state political conventions in August.

Even so, a bumper crop will be submitted to the voters for judging in November. Only half will win a blue ribbon.

THE BUYER CALLS THE TUNE

The State Commerce Department "Do It Now" campaign is beginning to show some results, it is reported. Families have begun to buy for reasonably conservative needs and there is a pickup in home improvements and in the sale of cars, home appliances, household furnishings and clothing.

Buying is necessary to the economy and the customer is the key to prosperity.

When the customer fixes up his house, he provides work for the carpenter, mason, plumber, painter, electrician, landscapers and truck drivers.

When the customer has his car repaired or turns it in for a new one, he furnishes work for service men, salesmen, repair men, garage men, auto painters, battery and tire men.

When the customer buys home appliances, furnishings and clothing, he supplies work for sales people, office, factory and plant personnel and textile and machine workers.

Now that the people have begun again to buy, the merchant should give more attention to service and courtesy. The people have the money to buy but they want more than goods for their money. They want politeness, courtesy, decency and a willingness upon the part of the merchant to obtain for them what they want and not what someone else is trying to sell them.

When these factors get more attention, buying again will spiral. The consumer will buy and buy more when he gets top value for his money and when the service is right.

Recent shopping surveys in this area indicate that there is room for improvement in these departments in local stores.

It might be well to remember that the buyer is always right.

PROTECTIVE ARCTIC FLIGHTS

If the Soviet Union had a real case, it would have fought the battle in the United Nations, win or lose, on the issue of American military flights toward Russian borders.

The dropping of charges before the UN Security Council in the face of certain defeat indicates that, once more, the Russians were concerned not with truth but with propaganda.

They know full well that any military organization worth its name must constantly operate training flights which, within limits, simulate the circumstances of defense and attack.

Surely the Russians do it themselves. No one would think much of their aerial defenses if they did not.

To suggest that some trigger-happy general might one day choose to send a nuclear bomber flight all the way to its target is rediculous.

This is not French North Africa, where combat already flares and the lethal bomb load, bad as it is, consists simply of ordinary high explosives. No American officer can fail to understand the consequences that would flow from taking matters into his own hands.

These flights of ours from Arctic bases are not a war threat but are in fact the very reverse—our insurance, such as we can muster, against a surprise nuclear assault from across the North Pole.

Evidently the sensible statesmen in this world understand that thoroughly. That is why Russia faced an overwhelming defeat in the UN had it decided to press its charges that we are endangering the peace.

Let us hope that world reaction, as indicated by the probable 9 to 1 vote against Russia that the Kremlin managed to duck, will have some impact in Britain. Leftist Laborites there persist in seeing our patrol and training flights over British Isles as a potential war menace.

This is no more true in Britain than in the Arctic. Our Strategic Air Command is simply doing the job it has to do and should do.

'These Days'

STILL ANOTHER EXPLANATION

Back in 1929 and 1930, as is true today, everybody and his grandmother had an explanation for the depression.

I have received a letter from a man who signs himself, Mr. Karol Fahnestock, 109 Randolph Street, Richmond, Indiana, in which he gives a very novel explanation for why things have gone wrong now. The aforesaid Mr. Fahnestock writes:

"It has been the constant yapping of people like you on the Red 'Menace' baloney along with your anti Communist propaganda that has dulled the democracy in the heart of the American people and killed it, to the extent that the American people have allowed Wall Street to take over, lock, stock and barrell and now it is this same Wall St. monopoly, in Washington that is really harming America at home and abroad and reducing this nation to the pitiful mess that it is in. This is the truth. This anti-'Communist" yapping has mortally hurt democracy and that is why America is in a mess."

Mr. Fahnestock's letter does represent a continuing protest in this country against the power of Wall Street. When Andrew Jackson fought the Bank of the United States, he was expressing the sentiment of the farmer against the stranglehold on the circulation of money by the banking powers, then most characteristically represented by the Biddles of Philadelphia.

The same power exists today in a cartel of bankers, brokers, underwriters, heads of life insurance companies, of mutuals and of labor union pension funds who put firms together in mergers, who take firms apart to benefit by the difference between book values and market values and take apart values; who sit on numerous boards of directors so that by interlocking directorships or by other group activities, they dominate the policies of a company or even of an entire industry.

The peril to the country is that they are killing off the smaller manufacturer and the smaller distributors and are socially driving the middle class of this country into the proletariat where they become an element of dissatisfaction and protest. I have often written on this subject because I am convinced that the greatest peril to American capitalism is the concentration of the control of money. Now I find that the Rockefeller Report, "The Challenge to America: Its Economic and Social Aspects," reaches much the same conclusion, to wit:

"Basic to much of our past economic achievement has been our ability to encourage men with new ideas and new products to establish their own enterprises. Our great industries began as small-scale operations, and the majority of them are still less than 50 years old. . . .

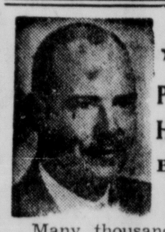

"There is . . . a growing body of evidence that smaller and medium-sized businesses, and particularly manufacturing firms—even those that have successfully established themselves in their industries and have solid prospects for growth—have difficulty in obtaining financing for the expansion of their operations. There is also a probability that inadequate financing reduces the rate at which new firms are established.

"The need is primarily for long-term equity or loan funds. As a result of the inability to obtain capital funds, the opportunity for establishing a new firm, or for expanding an established firm, is too often lost. Often the established firm merges with a larger enterprise that can command the necessary resources. The past few years have seen a wave of such mergers. Such a condition is neither conducive to vigorous competition nor to economic growth."

Even more than the economic consequences of this trend toward the elimination of the small producer and distributor are the social consequences that emanate therefrom. Management in large enterprise is most likely to be divorced from ownership, so that the salaried man and wage-earner are only different in degree, whereas an owner of a property has more than a temporary interest in it; to him it is often a vested interest to which he is emotionally bound and which he seeks to preserve. His attitude toward his country is likely to be the same as his attitude toward his enterprise, namely, a mingling of pride with a strong sense of preservation.

Ownership is psychologically different from unpropertied management and produces a different kind of person. In the upbuilding stage of a capitalist society, it is ownership that manages and that builds. In the down-going stage, competition lessens and mergers increase. It is then that the small man of great initiative loses his incentives and society becomes static.

Planning, Foresight Ensure Happiness in Adoption Cases

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Many thousands of adopted children live in mutually happy relationship with their new parents. More often than necessary, however, either the children or new parents struggle with unhappy problems. And it's because not enough care was taken in making the adoption.

Usually the question of adoption comes up for those couples who desire children but have lost hope of having any.

The children available are generally those who are deprived of normal family life by reason of illegitimate birth, death of parents or economic disaster.

Four questions connected with adoption arise more frequently than any others.

The first and most important comes from couples who want to know how to go about doing so.

A spur of the moment decision is undesirable. Adopting a child is not something to be entered into lightly.

The physical condition of both the child and the couple should be considered.

Hereditary backgrounds and religions should be matched as closely as possible.

Failure to take such things into account is responsible for many sad failures.

Obtaining a so-called black market baby is the most common cause of unhappy and unsatisfactory adoptions. The chance of making a suitable parent-child match is greatly improved when reliable welfare agents and physicians are consulted.

The wait may be longer—but it takes a long time to raise a child!

Another question relates to the age of the couple.

This is difficult to answer. Health and economic conditions as well as other factors are involved. Certainly an older couple should think how they will feel about it in 10 or 15 years. The problems of adolescence, education and the like are not easy.

Should an adopted child be told that he or she is adopted?

Most who have studied this question seem to believe that a child should be told as soon as he or she can understand it. If this is carefully done real good is accomplished.

Is it true that a couple is more likely to have a natural child soon after they have adopted a child?

Statistics on this question are virtually absent. But many of us know of couples who have had this experience. If generally true, this is hard to explain.

"Eureka!"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Things got on a very elevated plane here when Krafft Ehricke, German-born assistant to the technical director of Convair-Astronautics, brought to town his new 10-foot toy model of a basic space station.

He says the real thing—which would be 106 feet long and weigh 15,000 pounds—could be built in five years at a cost of around half a billion dollars.

It would operate 400 miles above the earth's surface with a crew of four men. A year or two after it was established—which would take about two weeks—it could be used as a base for launching improved instrumented comets to reconnoiter the moon, the planets and the outer solar system.

DR. EHRICKE SHOWED his model to congressional committees considering the creation of a government space agency. He gave an advance showing to National Press Club.

The next pitch is to sell the idea to the Pentagon or the civilian Advanced Research Projects Agency and get a go-ahead.

In preliminary design, the Atlas or Thor intercontinental ballistice missile "tank" or cylinder would be used.

First an Atlas "tank" would be orbited, empty.

Then a passenger missile carrying the first four-man crew would follow, with another cargo missile carrying equipment for the aft end of the space station.

THERE WOULD, of course, have to be a lot of precision in these successive launchings. For the space ship would be going 18,000 miles an hour or five miles a second. Supply missiles couldn't miss connections by more than a half second.

What's called "proportional navigation," a technique used to steer interceptor missiles to home on their tagets, would be used to bring all cargo and passenger vehicles into the vicinity of the space station.

There would be two-man gliders attached to the personnel-carrying missile. These gliders would be used for transferring the crew to the space station. They would be docked by small steering rockets.

The crew would enter the space station tank, install the emergency power, water and oxygen supply systems.

A second passenger-carrying missile would then deliver a relief crew. A second cargo missile would deliver a rubber nylon crew capsule. I would be placed in the forward end of the space station and inflated from a bottle.

FOUR ROOMS would be established in this capsule. In the nose would be the wash room. Waste liquids would have to be distilled and recycled to keep supply constant.

Under this would be the pantry, eating and recreation room, the sleeping room and the control room.

A third cargo missile would then deliver a nuclear power plant. It would be installed by still another relief crew, transported in a third passenger-carrying vehicles, as extra rooms.

Dr. Ehricke says this space station could be used to teach crews, to live in space. He insists that the first crews sent out would not be suicide squads.

To get the crews back to earth as they are relieved, once a month, the two-place gliders would be used.

Big Recession Worry Now Is Its Length, Not Depth

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — They're going to need a new dictionary here soon to understand the "recession." The descriptive words being used are somewhat novel. Thus President Eisenhower says at his news conference that "the decline is flattening out," while Alan H. Temple, executive vice-president of the First National City Bank of New York and a noted economist, declares in a speech before the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting here that "the foundation for the bottoming out is developing."

The President was talking about the drop in the unemployment figures for April. The use of these phrases assumes that the average man is familiar with the graphs and charts that portray the way the month-by-month figures on employment, production and sales go up or down or stay on the same level. So when the line on the chart "flattens out," it is a basis for hoping there will be no further decline. If some day there is an "upturn," then the horizontal line may well turn out to have been the "bottom" of the recession. Mr. Temple's analysis is significant because it implies that maybe we shall stay on the same horizontal level or "bottom" for some time. He says:

"Our greatet concern in this business decline is not its depth, which should not be gravely below present levels, but the time required to resume general growth and to retain the prosperity of which this country is capable."

What is meant here, of course, is that, while conditions may not get any worse and no deepening of the decline may materialize, it soon will become a matter of concern as to how long the national economy will be riding along on a horizontal line or even on a slow and protracted climb before "normal" conditions are back again. Mr. Temple adds this explanation:

"In most of our great industries, plant expansion will slacken or cease until sales and consumption show signs of new breakthroughs. Beyond any possible doubt, that happy day will come. The problem is to speed it. The solution of the problem cannot be left to Washington.

Paradoxes Cited

"Somehow the paradoxes in present economic relations must be resolved. It is paradoxical that wages should rise while workers are being laid off, that prices should rise while sales shrink drastically. In the short run these are alarming facts. In the long run the cost increases can be borne through greater productivity, achieved through greater effort, better machinery, better management, new and improved ways of doing things, and new and better things to meet people's desires."

Behind these cautiously worded phrases are events that make the headlines. Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union, demands, for instance, that auto prices now be reduced as a means of inducing sales. He says this notwithstanding the fact that built-in escalator clauses on wage scales, which go into effect automatically, mean extra expense for the auto companies.

Approximately 4,300,000 workers are covered by clauses in labor contracts which provide that, whenever there is a half of one per cent rise in the offifficial index for consumer prices, wages must go up one cent an hour. The big groups covered by such contracts are workers in the automobile and railroad industries as well as in steel and to some extent in farm and electrical machinery.

Now an index of cost of living may go up due to the weather or crop conditions, but the increases in wages must be granted irrespective of the ability of the employers to absorb the extra costs or to pass on the additional expense in the form of price increases for the products manufactured.

There are indeed a number of "paradoxes" in the situation. The labor leaders are clamoring for a tax cut to benefit persons in the lower bracket of incomes, the theory being that this will add to purchasing power generally in personal income that is needed so much as a remedying of the conditions that have brought on the decline in the hard-goods industries.

All sorts of proposals, involving many billions of dollars of government spending have been made inside and outside of Congress to stimulate the economy. But the real cause of the recession—the dilemma of the hard-goods industries — hasn't been tackled yet, and until it is, these industries, which have the biggest amount of unemployment, are not likely to recover very soon.

Weeks' Proposal

Secretary of Commerce Weeks put his finger on the weak spot in the economy when he said to the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting:

"If you could charge depreciation schedules to a more realistic basis, this would be the greatest shot in the arm to the economy."

Mr. Weeks suggested that, if business men were permitted to take tax deductions for depreciation according to a schedule they chose at the time they made an addition to or replacement of plant or equipment, it would not make any difference to Treasury receipts in the long run. It would encourage plant renovation and improve efficiency to the point where prices could be held in line.

"Depreciation," however, is a technical term and few people outside of business understand it. If the public could grasp its true meaning and would urge that some reform of this kind be instituted at once, it would surely take the nation out of the recession in a relatively short time and lay the foundation for a steady growth of the national economy.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Europeans who like to say America has no culture get a quick debate from Beverly Merrill.

"Actually, Europe is dead culturally," she insists. "It is a great schoolhouse, but more is now happening culturally here. We are the new center of Western culture."

Miss Merrill, dark-eyed and attractive, can approach the subject with some perspective.

Arouses Praise

At 30 she is sole owner and manager of a phonograph recording firm which for the first time in history is recording in its entirety some of the great forgotten music of the Middle Ages. Her projected 10-album series of medieval melodies has aroused the praise of musicologists throughout the world.

No really scholarly job of recording music of this period had been attempted before Miss Merrill founded her firm.

"Today it is definitely long, longhair music," she said. "But merely because it is old. The tunes are still fresh and lovely.

Religious Music

"It is mainly religious music, and some was composed to be performed in certain cathedrals or chapels."

One of her prizes is the first known English love song, "Bird on the Brier."

One of the stanzas reads:

"I'm so happy, bright bird on the brier,
"When I see that gracious lady, "She is white of limb, lovely, true,
"She is fair, the flower of all."

Music Isn't Simple

The music isn't simple. An ordinary commercial record of modern music is made in six hours. Miss Merrill's artists rehearse up to two or three months, then spend three evenings to make a recording.

"The farther back most music goes the more difficult it is to perform," she said. "It really tests the talent of the most gifted singers and instrumentalists.

"But what this music has in it is an extraordinary sense of peace. People hear it and feel it."

This may explain why, although most of the people who buy the records are members of the professional or intellectual classes, the appeal is slowly spreading.

"Even the dyed-in-the-wool jazz fans are getting interested," said Miss Merrill, "because this music marks the beginning of improvization in a jazz sense."

Old 'New Faces'

NEW YORK, (AP)—The next version of "New Faces," a recurrent Broadway revue, is going to depend on six previous finds as well as new talent. Producer Leonard Sillman, who expects his 1959 version of the showcase to be ready for autumn, is going to use the group to introduce his 10 latest performing discoveries.

Disabled Should Apply by June 30 For Full Benefit

Disabled people who have not been able to work for some time because of their disability have until June 30, 1958, to apply for full protection of their social security rights George J. Johnson, district manager of the Kingston, N. Y. social security office, said today. Mr. Johnson pointed out that if disabled people wait until after June 30, they run the risk of having their social benefits cut down or of having their right to any benefits run out altogether.

Mr. Johnson explained that disabled people, besides being so disabled that they are not expected to be able to do any kind of substantial work for a long and indefinite period, must have worked under social security for a certain length of time before they can have the protection of social security disability insurance. They must have worked at least five out of the ten years before their disability began and must have worked at least one and one half years out of the three years just before the disability began. If they make their application by June 30, the Social Security Administration can go back to the actual date of their disability and count years of work back from there. If they wait until after June 30, they must have worked for five years out of a ten year period ending no earlier than one year before they can make application.

Mr. Johnson explained this by giving the example of a man whom he called John Smith who had worked steadily until August 15, 1946, when he was severely disabled by polio. If Mr. Smith files his application by June 30, of this year, August 15, 1946, can be counted as the beginning date of his disability and he would have met the work requirements. If he waits until after June 30, his application can go back only one year and he will not have had any work qualifying him for disability protection.

By filing on or before June 30, Mr. Smith, who is 45 years old, will have his social security record protected back to the time he was disabled. This means that none of the time that he was out of work because of his illness will count against him when it comes time for him to start drawing social security benefits. Then, if Mr. Smith is still unable to work when he reaches his 50th birthday, he will be able to start drawing monthly social security checks. The checks will continue for as long as he remains disabled, or until he reaches age 65 at which time his disability benefit is changed to an old-age retirement benefit, which he receives regardless of his physical condition.

Mr. Johnson urged that any disabled person who thinks he might be entitled to the disability protection of the social security law contact his office personally or by mail or phone before June 30, 1958, so that he can be sure that all of his rights under social security will be fully protected.

The Kingston, N. Y. District Office of the Social Security Administration, which services all of Ulster and Sullivan Counties, is located at 61 Albany Avenue, Kingston, N. Y. Telephone FEderal 8-7307.

Greenback Candidate Held for Cancer Fraud

DETROIT (AP)—A medical doctor who ran for President on the Greenback ticket in 1944 was charged today with selling distilled water as a cure for cancer at $35 a shot.

Dr. Leo Charles Donnelly was arrested in his office Wednesday night by a raiding party which included 14 officers, two of them from the Pure Food and Drug Administration.

He was charged on seven counts of fraud which carry a maximum penalty of 32 years in jail.

Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen said the doctor had advertised the shots through the mail as cures for cancer and sold one variety for $10 and another for $35.

The prosecutor said the arrest came after four months of investigation and chemical tests. The tests by Parke, Davis & Co., Olsen said, showed the tablets to be vitamin pills. The tablets were sold for 8½ cents each.

Troop 9 Scouts Make Field Trip On Conservation

Twenty-one Scouts and their leaders of Troop 9, sponsored by the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, participated in a conservation field trip last Saturday.

The one hundred and fifty mile tour included stops at Napanoch where evidence of stream pollution was observed, Rondout and Neversink Reservoirs and the New York State fish hatchery and conservation camp at DeBruce. En route the boys recorded numerous indications of soil erosion and evidence of good and bad stream control. Many farm ponds, barrier dams, and stream bank erosion sites were also observed.

William Krom, caretaker of the conservation camp, explained the laboratory experiment in carp control, and guided the Scouts on a tour of the camp buildings and facilities. Refreshments for the boys were supplied by the Mothers Club of the troop.

The conservation theme will be concluded on May 6, when Charles Beehler of the New York State Conservation Department will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of Troop 9 in the church assembly room, Wurts and Rogers Streets.

New Paltz Celebration Committee to Meet

Representatives of various organizations of New Paltz will meet at the trustees room Thursday, May 8 at 7:30 p. m. to hear the slate of officers presented by the nominations committee which consists of Mrs. Frank Elliot, Mrs. Dlia Shaw, Dr. Alfred Rollins and Mrs. Ruth Heidgerd.

Following the election of the officers, further discussion will take place concerning plans for the part New Paltz will play in the celebration which will take place Oct. 3, 1959.

Democrats Will Meet in Buffalo

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A 14-member Democratic committee has chosen Buffalo as the site for the party's state nominating convention Aug. 25-26.

The choice, announced at a meeting of county chairmen Wednesday, still needs final approval from the full 300-member state committee, but endorsement is regarded as virtually certain.

No date has been set for the meeting of the state committee.

Speaker Is Named For Congregation Services Sunday

LEO W. PHAFF

Guest speaker at the installation of new members and the unveiling of a memorial tablet to Mrs. Benjamin Bronstein to be held at Congregation Ahavath Israel Sunday at 8:30 p. m. will be Leo W. Phaff, president of Temple Israel, Albany.

President Phaff last year became one of the youngest congregation presidents in the United States heading a congregation of 3,000 members. Prior to the presidency he was vice president and building fund chairman. Under his chairmanship a new million dollar Temple and Educational center was constructed.

Currently, Phaff is co-chairman in the general solicitations division of the 1958 United Jewish Appeal. He is affiliated with the Conservative Movement and the United Synagogue of America and is a member of B'nai B'rith, Jewish Home for the Aged, Jewish Community Center and a life member of the Zionist Organization of America.

The program will include brief talks by Congregation President Larry Jacobs and Sisterhood President Mrs. Alfred Horowitz.

The following new members will be installed by Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein: Robert Badian, Mr. and Mrs. George Baron, Dr. and Mrs. George Braunstein, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Colen, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gallup, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goldstein, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gruberg, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kaufman, Lewis Kirschner, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lipton, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Messinger, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Milikofsky, Marvin Millens, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Motzkin, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Motzkin, Mr. and Mrs. George Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Singer and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zweben.

Refreshments will be served following the service by the Sisterhood. Herman G. Rafalowsky is chairman of the program for the service.

Opening lead—♥ J

Both North and South overbid a trifle and a club opening would have surely beaten the slam. However, West did open the jack of hearts and dummy and East played low. If East had taken his ace the hand would have been a spread.

Arnold Levine of Pittsburgh who sat South noted that there was only one combination of cards that would allow him to bring home 12 tricks. East had to have the king of clubs and the ace of hearts and West to hold the king of spades.

Any play is better than no play so Mr. Levine won his queen of hearts and led a spade to dummy's queen. When it held business looked up a little. A low spade was ruffed and a diamond led to dummy's jack. The last low spade was ruffed and now Arnold led another diamond to dummy and cashed the ace of spades, discarding a heart.

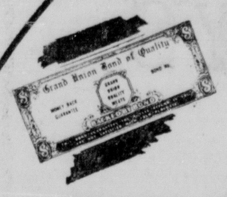

Now the king of hearts was led from dummy. East won with his ace and had to lead away from his king of clubs, since the lead of a heart would enable Arnold to ruff in his own hand and discard dummy's losing club.

History has to repeat itself because nobody listens the first time.

Importance of Laws Stressed By Bar Assn. for Law Day

The importance to every citizen of the system of law and order "under which we live" was stressed today by the Ulster County Bar Association on Law Day U.S.A. being observed throughout the nation.

Frederick H. Stang, chairman of the public affairs committee of the bar association, in behalf of Charles Saccoman, president, issued the following statement:

"Heretofore May 1 has been designated as Loyalty Day and it is quite appropriate that we observe Loyalty Day and Law Day at the same time.

Ike, Ave Proclaim Day

"President Eisenhower issued a proclamation designating May 1 as Law Day U.S.A. and Gov. Harriman of New York has done likewise. The purpose of the proclamation and statement has been to bring home to every citizen the importance to all of us the system of law and order under which we live.

"Any of us live our lives through without ever feeling we are in contact with the law. We are never arrested, never on trial, never sued and we never sue anyone. Yet all the time law is everywhere about us. It guides us in our relations with others and guards us against those who would become dangerous without its restraint.

Affected Around the Clock

"Actually from the time we awake in the morning until the time we retire in the evening, and to carry it further, even asleep, we are protected and affected by laws.

"How many of us know what is the true definition of law?

"'Law' is a body of rules by which man's social conduct is regulated and prescribed.

"And, by what are we judged every day of our lives—our social conduct, naturally.

"As Daniel Webster said: 'Ours is a people's government—made for the people, made by the people and answerable to the people.'

Equal Liberties

"Under such a system we all have equal privileges and liberties and our Constitution requires that the laws must be the same for all citizens.

"Consider for a minute what it would be like if we lived in a country which did not entitle us to a trial by jury; a country in which we were Guilty until proved Innocent, if we had a chance for a trial at all, and a country in which we read in the papers only what "they" wanted us to see.

"The present status of world affairs makes it especially fitting that we should at this time reaffirm our faith in the rule of law and our determination to strengthen it. This is both a timely and patriotic observance emphasizing respect for law and good citizenship. It merits the cooperation of all of us.

'Everyday Challenges'

"The Bill of Rights, which is certainly recommended reading for every American citizen, outlines very clearly and simply what your rights are as an American citizen, and also your obligations. When you read it, think of what each and every one of these rights means to you, your family and your future. There will be no doubt in your mind when you have done this why Law Day U.S.A. should be an everyday challenge to every American."

To Get Steel Grants

NEW YORK (AP)—A total of 655 privately supported educational institutions will receive grants amounting to two million dollars from the U. S. Steel Foundation Inc.

The largest sums — $100,000 in capital grants for a five-year period—were committed to Cornell University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, California Institute of Technology, Johns Hopkins University and Harvard University.

The foundation announced the grants Wednesday.

Of the 500 or more kinds of bats in the world, the fruit bats (also known as flying foxes) are the largest.

HOME IN THE SKY—What looks like the living room in a small home is actually the interior of a twin-engine plane for executives. It was decorated by Mrs. Elfreda Snyder, of New York, who used only materials which are available for home decoration. Among her space-saving innovations are a tape recorder hidden in an ottoman, a bar in a table and a desk which folds into a suitcase stand. Note the bedroom seen in background through the doorway.

New Hurley

NEW HURLEY — The New Hurley Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Laurence Dolan Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Duane Dolan will be the assistant hostess.

There will be regular preaching services in the New Hurley Reformed Church Sunday, 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 a. m. at the church hall with classes for all ages.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Gerow Wilkin on Wednesday, May 7 at 2:30 p. m. The ladies of the community are invited to attend this meeting.

On Thursday, May 8, 2:30 p. m., the Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Laurence Dolan. Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker will have charge of the program for the afternoon.

The following ladies from here attended the Missionary Conference at Walden last Tuesday: Mrs. Harvey Noordsy, Mrs. Jacob Kobelt, Mrs. Elwood Powell, Mrs. Arnold Terwilliger, Mrs. Myra Dolan, Mrs. Albert Cronk and Miss Bertha Sutton.

Several from here attended the fish and chips supper at the Plattekill Grange Hall Saturday evening.

Mrs. Roy Denniston and Mrs. Gerow Wilkin were in Newburgh last Wednesday.

Mrs. A. D. McKinstry of Gardiner spent Thursday with her cousins Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton.

The Rev. Harvey Noordsy is attending a meeting of the Commission on Approaches to Christian Unity which is being held in Chicago on Tuesday. The Rev. Mr. Noordsy is a member of this committee. Following the meeting the pastor and family will visit their families in South Dakota and Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merwin, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Jane Wood and children were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Wilkin Sunday.

Local Veterans Affairs Office Plans Open House

Area veterans who visit the Division of Veterans Affairs office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston, during New York State Open House Week, May 4 to May 10, will be given a Veteran Identification Card, Peter B. Riley, State Veteran Counselor and County Director Howard C. Shurter announced today.

The wallet size card, containing spaces for the veteran's serial number, claim number, social security number, and other pertinent information of importance to the veteran, is being introduced by the Division of Veterans Affairs in conjunction with Open House activities at the local office.

Riley and Shurter further added that "Open House" visitors will have the opportunity of inspecting the local facilities and should feel free to ask any question they may have concerning their entitlements and those of their family to any of a number of veteran benefits.

Open House Week activities at the Division of Veterans Affairs office will also include a "Radiogram Message Service" whereby visitors, veterans and non-veterans alike, will be able to send without cost a radio message of up to 25 words to a friend or relative in the Armed Forces stationed in the United States or overseas. The radiograms will be forwarded daily by the office to the Military Affiliate Radio System Station at the Syracuse Air Station so that the messages will be delivered to the designated servicemen with a minimum of delay.

Counselor Riley and Director Shurter in announcing the "Open House Week" activities said that the local office will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily from May 5 through May 9 with evening hours of from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. on the evening of May 8 in observance of V-E Day.

9,500 Fewer Seek Jobless Pay in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Unemployment insurance claims in New York State last week totaled 453,500, a drop of 9,500 from the preceding week but still 88 per cent above a year ago.

For the Upstate districts the total of 211,000—down 7,500 from the previous week—represented a one year rise of 138 per cent.

Exhaustion of benefit rights cut 3,488 persons off the rolls last week.

The figures were reported yesterday by the State Department of Labor. Most of the statewide decline in jobless insurance claims resulted from rehirings in the construction industry and the recall of many workers in durable goods industries after one-week layoffs. However, exhaustion of benefits by claimants also was an important factor.

New jobless insurance claims fell from 63,000 to 59,400, reflecting an Upstate decline of 4,200 to 23,900, while in New York City the new claims increased by 600 to 35,500.

Most of the new unemployment Upstate came from additional one-week layoffs in automotive and electrical machinery plants and steel foundaries. The largest temporary layoffs were in Westchester County auto plants, which resulted in 2,000 new benefit claims.

CENTER OF ATTENTION—Janice Kane, 23, seems to be attracting more attention than the instructor in this class of 301 students at Chicago Medical College. There are 300 men in the class, which perhaps explains why. Janice, from Atlantic Beach, N.Y., is the only woman attending the school. A former model and artist, she's an honor student and first woman member of a national medical fraternity, Phi Lambda Kappa. Janice takes her unique role in stride, although, she remarks, "At times I feel like I have 300 big brothers."

Amos Post Inc. Will Distribute General Tires

Appointment of the Amos Post Corporation of Catskill as exclusive distributor of General tires for the Catskill valley and mountain area was announced by The General Tire & Rubber Company today.

Amos Post will handle the complete line of General tires, tubes, batteries and repair materials.

A Cadillac dealer since 1906, Amos Post has been an independently operated business since the early 1900's, selling gasoline, fuel oil and bottled gas. Today, 31 company trucks service the Catskill area.

With its own wharfage facilities along the Hudson River and a bulk plant with a 4¼-million-gallon storage capacity, the company distributes to 63 Calso stations in the area.

"We are very pleased to be associated with The General Tire & Rubber Company and to be able to offer our customers their line of quality tires," said Lloyd Newcombe, Amos Post vice president.

"The name General, like Amos Post, has become synonymous with quality and good service through the years."

Mr. Newcombe is well known in the Catskill area not only through the business but by virtue of his widespread activity in community affairs.

A member of the Rotary Club, he is a director of the Catskill National Bank & Trust Co., a trustee of Greene County Memorial Hospital and vice president of the Catskill Board of Education.

Other officers and executives of the Amos Post Corporation are: Mrs. Austin R. Newcombe, president; Mrs. Julia Post, treasurer; Clark Post, Elwood Lasher, John Rich, Chet Tompkins and William Donahue.

Chidsey Insurance Is Given Service Award

Word was received today by the R. Frederick Chidsey Agency, local insurance firm, of 60 Maiden Lane, that a distinguished service award has been made to the local company.

According to a member of the firm, the award was made on the basis of the "production of multiple lines insurance and service to customers."

Ave Takes Dig At Gov. Faubus In Law Day Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Harriman said today that Americans "must recognize that the preservation of equal justice under law is fundamental to the safeguarding of our freedom."

"The rule of law is today being sharply challenged in large areas of the world," he added.

Harriman also criticized another Democratic governor, Orval Faubus of Arkansas, in a speech prepared for a patriotic rally.

"In our generation," Harriman said, "it is shocking to see a governor of one of the states calling out the National Guard, not to uphold the Constitution and orders of the Supreme Court, but to defy them.

"Such action cannot be tolerated. It offends the concept of law on which our society is based. It undermines our influence among the free peoples abroad and it weakens our leadership in the worldwide struggle against Kremlin-led communism."

Harriman was a speaker for a public ceremony observing "Law Day—U. S. A."

Search Goes On for Pilot

EAST HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Police resumed today their search for the body of a pilot who rode his light plane to the bottom of Long Island Sound and left only oil slicks on the surface.

The crumpled wreckage of a single-engined Cessna was pulled from the sound about a mile from the shore here yesterday. No body was found, and police said it could have drifted for miles with the tides.

The pilot of the plane was not positively identified. But aeronautics officials said the plane belonged to Edward J. Carney, 48, Wethersfield executive.

They said Carney took off at Hartford's Brainard Field yesterday for New Haven. The plane crashed 10 minutes later in choppy water a few miles from the New Haven municipal field.

A fisherman and his family witnessed the crash. Police sped to the scene and tossed an orange buoy out to mark an oil slick and started grappling.

Five hours later, they saw another oil slick half a mile distant. Grappling hooks caught the engine of the metal airplane.

Skin divers fastened a heavy rope to the engine. Coast guardsmen, sent from New London on a cutter, hauled the engine to the surface. Later the rest of the plane was recovered, but there was no body.

Rabbis Condemn South Bombings As Nazi Tactics

KIAMESHA LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—A convention of 600 conservative rabbis has condemned bombings and threats of bombings of Jewish houses of worship in southern cities.

A resolution adopted by the spiritual leaders says these acts were "reminiscent of Nazi tactics."

The rabbis called on federal, state and local authorities to redouble their efforts to arrest those "whose acts have outraged the conscience of all freedom-loving and law-abiding Americans."

The rabbis' resolution was adopted yesterday at the closing session of the 58th annual convention of the Rabbinical Assembly of America, which represents the conservative branch of Judaism.

Rabbi Isaac Klein of Temple Emanu-El, Buffalo, was elected president of the assembly. He succeeds Rabbi Aaron Blumenthal of Mount Vernon.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Fuller Stoddard, 81, an inventor who developed an improved player piano and many automatic cooking devices, died Tuesday of a stroke. He was associated with the American Piano Co. for many years.

NEW YORK (AP) — Matthew (Matty) W. Satosk, 51, race handicapper and selector for The Associated Press for several years, died Wednesday of coronary thrombosis. He joined The AP in 1928 as a telegraph operator and later became a traffic department supervisor in the AP's New York office. He was born in New York.

Health Bureau Open House Week Set May 4 to 11

ALBANY—A full week of activities at State Health Department installations will highlight the department's observance of Open House Week, May 4 to May 11, Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner announced today.

Special programs will be held at the State Health Department Building, 84 Holland Avenue, Albany; the department's regional and district offices, the five tuberculosis hospitals, Roswell Park Memorial Institute and the State Rehabilitation Hospital at West Haverstraw.

Includes Tours

The program at the State Health Department Building in Albany will be held May 7 and include guided tours of the building and the Division of Laboratories and Research. The tours will start at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. Films will be shown at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Among the films will be "Change at Haverstraw," a story of the program for aiding the physically handicapped; "Nancy Edwards—Public Health Nurse," which shows the everyday work of the public health nurse, and "Lease on Life," a film on Civil Defense dealing with the organization of an improvised emergency hospital.

Other Open House programs include: Ray Brook Tuberculosis Hospital, May 5; State Rehabilitation Hospital at West Haverstraw, May 6; Onondaga Sanatorium, May 7; Oneonta District Office, May 7; Roswell Park Memorial Institute, May 7; Mount Morris Tuberculosis Hospital, May 8; Jamestown District Office, May 8; Buffalo Regional Office, May 8; Utica District Office, May 9, and Syracuse Regional Office, Syracuse, Lockport and Hornell District Offices, tours throughout the week.

Other Plans

Plans also are being formulated for Open House programs at other State Health Department hospitals and offices and details will be announced in the near future.

"We are anxious to have as many people as possible attend the Health Department's Open House programs," Dr. Hilleboe said. "I feel the Open House programs are very important. They offer residents the opportunity to obtain first-hand information about the functions of the department."

Curran Withdraws Suit for Slander

An action for slander instituted in April 1957 by Attorney William P. Curran, justice of the peace of the Town of Rosendale, against Harold Krom, trustee of the village of Rosendale, seeking $450,000 in money damages, has been discontinued by Attorney Curran without costs.

A motion by the defendant to dismiss the action for lack of prosecution, which was scheduled to be heard at the special term of Supreme Court before Justice Harry E. Schirick on Friday, May 2, was withdrawn in view of the plaintiff's discontinuance.

At the time the suit was commenced, Attorney Curran claimed that Trustee Krom had voted against approving his appointment as village attorney, and in commenting on the qualifications of various applicants for the position, had slandered him.

Trustee Krom in defending his remarks said that in the course of performing the duties of his elective office as trustee, he had outlined the experience in municipal affairs of the various attorneys who had applied for the position, and that any comments were honestly made and permissible as fair comment under the circumstances.

No consideration was paid and Attorney Curran, in discontinuing his action, said that he was now on friendlier terms with Trustee Krom.

William P. Curran is associated with the law firm of Schick and Klein, Kingston, and appeared for himself in the action. Trustee Krom was represented by Sherwood E. Davis, Kingston attorney.

Five Area Servicemen To Depart for Germany

They are: Pvt. Gerard D. Caruso, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Caruso, Mount Pleasant; Pvt. Ralph J. Anzivina, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Anzivina, Highland; Pvt. James Quick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Quick of Accord; Pvt. John L. Mazzuca, 22, son of Mrs. Mary Mazzuca of 65 Hutton Street; and Pvt. John D. Armstrong, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Armstrong of 56 Gage Street.

All are members of the Third Infantry Division which is replacing the 10th Infantry Division in Germany.

Anzivina, Caruso and Mazzuca are construction specialists in the division's 10th Engineer Battalion. Quick and Anderson are truck drivers in Company C of the division's 10th Engineer Battalion.

All five entered the Army last November.

Anzivina, a 1953 graduate of Highland Central High School, was employed by International Business Machines, Poughkeepsie before entering the Army.

Caruso attended Bishop Loughlin Memorial High School and was employed by Adins Food Center, Kingston, before entering the Army.

A 1953 graduate of Kingston High School, Mazzuca is a 1957 graduate of Suffolk University.

Armstrong was graduated from Kingston High School in 1953 and was employed by International Business Machines in civilian life.

Nagging Wife Worse

LONDON (AP) — A nagging wife can wear a man down faster than bad working conditions or hours, the senior psychiatrist at London's St. George Hospital said today.

In considering individual breakdowns, Dr. Desmond Curran told a medical congress, problem mothers-in-law also have to be taken into account.

Mrs. M. Hilton, Antique Dealer, Dies at Danbury

Mrs. Marion M. Hilton, 54, a long time resident of Saugerties, died Wednesday at Danbury Hospital, Danbury, Conn., following a long illness.

She had resided in Saugerties since her marriage in 1928 to John C. Myers Hilton, a grandson of the founder of the John G. Myers Department Store, Albany. Mrs. Hilton was active in civic affairs and was a member of the Taxpayers Association of Saugerties, Civil Defense and the Saugerties DAR. She was a former regent of the Saugerties DAR Chapter.

She operated an antique business on Bridge Street, Saugerties. Recently she sold her house at Barclay Heights and planned to make her home in Danbury.

She was born in Watervliet and had resided in Albany prior to coming to this area. Her husband who had been active in civic affairs in Saugerties died in April, 1955.

She is survived by an uncle, Leonard Stanley of Albany and a cousin, Marjorie Leitzell of Watervliet.

Funeral services will be held at Hartley and Lamouree Funeral Home, 8 Second Street, Saugerties, Saturday at 1 p. m. with the Rev. Peter W. Hill, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Barclay Heights, officiating. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Burial will be in Albany Rural Cemetery, Albany.

GM, UAW Return To Contract Talks

DETROIT (AP)—Smiling and casual, negotiators for General Motors and the United Auto Workers returned to the bargaining table today and the union said it has almost completed presentation of its demands.

The negotiators are under pressure to reach a settlement in the next 29 days. But as they wandered into the conference room of the huge GM office building they looked anything but men in a hurry.

"It's a fine day," said UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock with a smile.

Company men looked happy and carefree, too.

Earl R. Bramblett, GM's director of labor relations, said "We've got a constructive proposal for agreement on the table."

At the same time he indicated the company is standing pat on its suggsstion to renew the wage terms of the present contract."

Saugerties

Two SHS Youths Are Finalists in Scholarship Test

Two Saugerties High School seniors have the distinction of being finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition, the largest and most rigorous scholarship competition in our history.

Frederick Hornbeck and Henry Sacks are among 7,400 finalists selected from over 256,000 candidates. The 256,000 entrants took the "Scholarship Qualifying Test" in their respective high schools on October 22, 1957. The test was a two-hour, high level college aptitude examination. The 7,400 semi-finalists then took the three-hour "Scholastic Aptitude Test" of the College Entrance Examination Board on January 11. As a result of their high scores on both tests, Frederick Hornbeck and Henry Sacks became finalists.

Young Hornbeck is one of approximately 1,000 seniors in the United States to receive a merit scholarship stipend towards the cost of a four-year college education. Henry is a non-monetary winner. The stipends vary in value from $100 to over $2,000 per year dependent upon family resources, summer earnings and college costs.

Frederick Hornbeck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hornbeck, formerly of Saugerties and now of Lexington. He has been active in debating, science club, cross country, track, football, yearbook production and dramatics. He is a member of the National Honor Society, and earned an award in mathematics in his junior year. He was chosen to represent Saugerties High School at Empire Boys' State and plans to enter Yale University where he will pursue a course in engineering.

Young Sacks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sacks of Katsbaan, Town of Saugerties. He has been a homeroom officer, a member of the student council, and treasurer of the junior class. He has been awarded several prizes in his high school career including the French I and French II prizes, Latin I prize, plane geometry prize, the general science prize, and a prize for the highest average in the junior year. He is a member of the National Honor Society and valedictorian of the senior class. Henry plans to enter the field of medicine. He has been accepted for admission to Williams College.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation was established in 1955 through grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Over seventy business and industrial corporations now sponsor the scholarship competition through their contributions to the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Tone Plans Venture

NEW YORK, (AP)—Star Fanchot Tone is to make his initial Broadway producing venture in the fall as co-sponsor of the Luigi Pirandello comedy, "The Rules of the Game." Producing with him is David Ross, who lured Tone into acting in the hit off-Broadway revival of "Uncle Vanya" three seasons ago. Tone will enact one of the three starring roles in the Pirandello play and Ross will direct.

Also, Michael R. Anzivina, Highland High; Robert L. Misner, Rondout Valley Central; Carolyn E. Stark, Oakwood School, Poughkeepsie, and Reed B. Wickner, Newburgh Free Academy.

Held January 23

The Regents scholarship examination was held January 23 with approximately 33,000 high school seniors in about 1,200 secondary schools of the state participating.

The number allocated to each county is determined by the ratio of the number of high school graduates in each county to the total number of high school graduates in the state last year. Legislation provides that no county shall receive fewer scholarships than were received in 1956.

The holder of one of these scholarships will be entitledd to a stipend of from $250 to $700 a year depending on financial need for each of four years of his or her college course while attending any college in the state approved by the Regents for this purpose.

Local Support Is Urged on Humane Slaughter Bills

Supporters of the humane slaughter bills, now pending in the United States Senate, are being urged by the Society for Animal Protective Legislation, to write or telegraph the members of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, urging that the committee act favorably on the pending humane slaughter bills, and send them to the full Senate to be voted on.

Hearings are being held now on the matter.

On Monday the supporters of the bills were heard. On Tuesday the opponents were before the committee, followed on Wednesday by the Government Agencies, all of which are opposed. Thursday, May 1, has been set for Farm organizations to appear before the committee. Many Farm organizations are opposed especially because of the current work of the meat packers lobby which is very active in Washington.

No opportunity for rebuttal by those who support the bill, will be granted after the opposition has been heard, this in spite of the fact that it was the opponents who asked for the hearings and who are endeavoring to make out some kind of new case against the legislation.

The House of Representatives has already overwhelmingly passed the humane slaughter measure.

Supporters of the humane slaughter bill ask that the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry be swamped with letters or telegrams before May 9, the first meeting of the committee following the hearings. At that time the committee members will decide on which way to cast their vote.

Representatives of numerous groups are now in Washington because of interest in totally different pieces of legislation. These men are being urged by the chief lobbyist for the American Meat Institute to testify against the humane slaughter bill. To offset this prejudiced testimony, the Society for Animal Protection legislation and other Humane Societies, are requesting that all persons interested in humanitarian methods of slaughter of animals by the meat packing industry petition the committee to give favorable consideration to the pending bill.

If the committee on Agriculture and Forestry defeats or amends the bill into ineffectiveness, the Society holds that the Senate as a whole will be deprived of the right to make up their own minds on the matter. They ask that the Senate be given an opportunity to have the bills voted out of the committee and moved for a full Senate vote.

Supporters of the humane slaughter legislation includes most of the country's leading newspapers, as well as the public and those opposed to unnecessary cruelty of animals in the slaughter houses.

Margaret B. Johnson, secretary of the Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, recently called attention in The Freeman to the "unscrupuously inhuman butchers and slaughterhouse operators" whose only object is "to kill and suffering is of no concern of theirs." She called attention to the many countries in Europe where humane slaughter is required by law.

At that time she wrote:

Legislation passed would make it mandatory that humane method be put in effect. Write your Senators—Jacob K. Javits and Irving M. Ives—c/o Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., and urge them to get behind bill No. S 1497. Humane Societies and SPCA's can't do it alone. Don't leave it to the other fellow, write tonight and get your friends, too.

Croswell Is Questioned On Meeting

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Two state policemen testified today before an Albany County grand jury probing for possible perjury in testimony concerning the Apalachin gangland convention.

The troopers were Sgt. Edgar D. Croswell, who led the state police raid that broke up the gathering of big-name hoodlums last Nov. 14, and Trooper Vincent Vasisko, who participated in the raid.

The now defunct Legislative Watchdog Committee had asked the grand jury to review testimony given the committee by John C. Montana of Buffalo, Ignatius Cannone and Emmanuel Zicari of Endicott, and Croswell.

The Watchdog Committee took testimony from the men in its probe of the gangland meeting.

An assistant district attorney entered the grand jury room today with the record of the testimony given to the Watchdog Committee.

It was reported that no subpoenas had been served yet on Montana, Cannone and Zicari.

Before entering the grand jury room, Croswell jokingly told news men that he was becoming "an excellent witness." He noted that this was his 29th appearance before an investigative body since the Apalachin raid.

His testimony lasted about an hour and a half.

Says U.S. Should Pay For FCC Traveling

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The president of the National Assn. of Broadcasters says the government should pick up the tab for Federal Communications Commission members attending industry meetings.

FCC commissioners came under recent congressional fire for taking industry paid trips.

NAB President Harold E. Fellows said Wednesday that commissioners "cannot live in a cave" but must attend industry meetings if they are "to keep abreast of sound and proper administration of the law. . . ." He added: "If government officials must travel to observe, to learn . . . then let the government pick up the tab and relieve industry of this responsibility."

Four-Day Week Suggested as Recession Cure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said today Congress should study the feasibility of a four-day work week, at least in some industries, as a possible cure and preventive of recessions.

He said it should be considered along with the ideas of a guaranteed annual wage and profit sharing for workers in industries which have periodic layoffs. He mentioned the automobile industry as one.

Asks Consideration

Aiken emphasized in an interview that he is not suggesting a quick switch to any of these ideas, but added: "Eventually we've got to consider it, and I think we should consider it now."

Both the current business slump and prospects that many industries will need fewer workers in the future indicate, he said, that there is a need for something more than hurry-up steps to get people back on payrolls after recessions have thrown them out of jobs.

Aiken said automation in some sections of industry has led or is leading to a situation in which a peacetime economy just can't keep the available work force employed on a 40-hour week the year around.

Business, Industry

Benedictine Hospital will be a splendid addition to the health service of the area. (8) The construction of the new Temple on Albany Avenue and (9) Several major area highway projects will soon be under construction, in addition to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge-9W highway link. The committee plans to publicize many other favorable factors from time to time as positive indications of area progress.

All Urged to Act

Public officials at all levels are invited to push all planned and needed projects, such as street and highway repair and maintenance, school construction and other public improvements. Industries are invited to proceed at once with deferred maintenance programs and plant modernization or expansion projects. Announcements of installations of new equipment will be encouraged because it indicates a vote of confidence for prosperity ahead.

Home-owners and neighborhood groups are invited to start an immediate program to beautify and improve homes, lawns and gardens. A widespread community-wide "Clean-up and fix-up" program is advocated.

Pratt said "The 'Do-It-Now' months of May and June offer a period of opportunity for all agencies and individuals to cooperate in a sound program to invigorate our economy."

Lauds U-A Group

Pratt complimented the Ulster-Albany Avenue Businessmen's Association for the appointment of Timothy Troyan as their "Do-It-Now" chairman and urged other groups to also appoint chairmen. Troyan is a member of the steering committee which met last night and urged the complete cooperation of all businessmen to help strengthen our economy and improve the employment situation.

Other members of the planning or coordinating group in addition to Chairman Pratt and Troyan are James I. Lukehart, Daniel Weisberg, Anthony Saccoman, Stanley London, Lawrence J. MacAvery and Robert L. Sabin, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Henry Singer, also a member of the group, was present. Chamber Manager Albert Kurdt will serve as secretary to the committee. They will meet again on May 7 to consider reports and make further plans.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our relatives and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and father, Leo F. Keating. Special thanks to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Drury, Father Francis X. Toner, and Father Edward F. Farrelly, for their prayers, also the employes of the Electrol, Inc. and the I.B.M. and the 41 Club, for their many beautiful floral pieces and the many spiritual bouquets.

Protest to Ave

Troopers' Wives Indignant Over Work Conditions

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New fuel was poured on the fire enveloping the state police today with the disclosure that 22 wives wrote Gov. Harriman to protest against their husbands' working conditions.

The Albany Times-Union said the wives of 22 troopers assigned to the Thruway detail told the governor in a letter their husbands worked 56 hours a week plus 30 hours as "ready reserves," although the Thruway detail hours were fewer than those of other details.

Complain of Shifts

A similar letter, the newspaper said today, was sent to State Police Supt. Francis S. McGarvey. It complained about shifts maintained at the new Thruway barracks near an Albany interchange.

When the barracks was opened in December, the paper quoted the wives as saying, troopers who used to go home every night were required to spend two 24-hour shifts at the barracks. They were split into eight hours on the road, eight as ready reserve, and eight for sleeping.

The women maintained that troopers should not be compelled to do such jobs as cleaning barracks. They also criticized a ban against troopers' using patrol cars to travel to and from home.

Troopers' resentment over new working regulations and the ban on the use of patrol cars first came to light in the wage of recent charges that troopers were required to meet a monthly arrest quota on the superhighway.

Defends Car Order

McGarvey has denied that a quota system existed and has defended the car order as an economy measure.

Before the sub-stations were opened, it was explained troopers were permitted to spend their "ready-reserve" time at home because suitable housing was unavailable.

The letter from the wives to Harriman, written last Dec. 23, was answered in January by his secretary, Jonathan Bingham. He said it was regrettable that troopers had to do chores, but that civilian help was not available. A spokesman for the governor's office said Wednesday that soldiers clean their own barracks, and described the state police as a semi-military outfit.

Must Await Changes

He said Harriman and McGarvey had been working together trying to improve working conditions of troopers.

"Last year," McGarvey said Wednesday, "I asked in the state police budget for an increase of 375 men in the division. I received an allotment for 100. These additional men have been put to good use and have caused naturally, a redistribution of the work load.

"In the next session of the Legislature I shall request more men—exactly how many I do not know now but I would estimate the request will be the same as last year. When the state police organization receives the additional help it needs, we will cut the size of the territories they are stationed in and thus reduce their work load. A by-product of this will be shorter hours.

"But we cannot make these changes now or at any time until we get the additional manpower . . . ."

Brings Gun to Jail

Why We Say--

WELSH RABBIT

A JOKE: Ever since this cheese on toast dish was named, there have been people who have claimed that it really means Welsh "rarebit." This is not true, because the name started in Wales when there was a shortage of meat. The Welsh named the dish "rabbit" as a joke.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I had a pleasant surprise the other day when I received a telephone call from a former teacher of mine, Mrs. Elsie Myers Pultz. She taught some 41 years in Spencer's Business School. She liked the column in which there is mention that the young ones of today should be glad that their fathers were born before them, and their grandfathers before that because of the wisdom of those before us made possible the conveniences and inventions of today. We had a nice talk. No doubt many readers remember Mrs. Pultz who now has reached her 75th birthday and her voice is just as clear today as when it was back in my day when she dictated shorthand notes to us.

After I graduated high school I came out of there with a nice diploma but was never taught the essentials of getting a job or typing because I took a different course. I found employers were not interested in my knowing algebra, Latin, and other such subjects. I could type but not the touch system so my father sent me to business school for the summer. There in a few months I did learn to type but shorthand did not come so easy to me, although Mrs. Pultz did try her best with all of us. We did learn how to arrange and type business letters, and bookkeeping and business spelling, all very useful to me later. Without that business course my high school diploma was useless to me, but my typing opened doors to many interesting jobs. In years to come I learned to take dictation on a typewriter. But I never found an employer who could dictate so clear as Mrs. Pultz. Many liked to chew on cigars, swallow their words, stumble, grumble, change their minds, while dictating.

Mrs. Pultz brought back many memories of a very pleasant summer which other students and myself enjoyed during that business course uptown. In those days a good hot lunch in the Wall Street restaurants was 50 cents, corn muffins, coffee and pie included. Tomorrow, never bothered us, we then lived for today. I guess we thought it would always be like that with our parents giving us spending money and we would always stay young and happy. We were treated as grown-ups in school, and that we liked. The lessons were pleasant, everything keyed to the idea of being trained for a position with pay, which seemed very nice indeed. There was no gym classes to perspire in needlessly, no detention hall for making up time because of an absence excuse that did not please Miss Walton. There was no class distinction, or popularity because of high marks, school sports, etc. We were all in the same boat. We paid for our tuition in person and received the same treatment no matter who we were, where we were from, or what our parents did.

No doubt Mrs. Pultz can look back on a very satisfying list of students she taught in her nearly half a century at Spencer's. Her mind is young and sharp and her students would find her as eager and enthusiastic as they remember her in the class room if they were to talk to her over the phone as I did. She lives at 142 St. James Street and has lived in Kingston these many years. She told me her father was in the harness business on North Front Street many years ago. I did not take notes on it so I do not know the location or name of shop. I am sure other former students will enjoy talking with her as I did.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring lamb will be a popular choice of bargain-hunting housewives in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Lamb prices are two to six cents a pound lower in some areas, although the reductions are not widespread.

Veal chops also are less expensive in scattered areas, while pork and chicken are somewhat higher generally. A few cautious reductions in sirloin and rib roast prices also are reported, but the beef market remains high.

The advent of spring also means liberal supplies of fresh vegetables in a good part of the country. The best buys are in spinach, broccoli-rabe and other cooking greens, yellow or green squash, endive, escarole, radishes and green onions. Squash is coming to market in good supply from Florida.

You can get good buys in carrots, lettuce, cucumbers, asparagus, cabbage, potatoes, peas, eggplant and pascal celery. Produce men report that some lettuce has a wide range in quality and condition, which calls for careful shopping. Tomatoes still are high.

Rhode Island, smallest state in the Union, would fit into Texas, the largest state, more than 200 times.

Moves Underway To End Tieup of Lakes' Shipping

CHICAGO (AP) — Foreign ships still rode with holds full of cargo in several Great Lakes ports today, but at least two moves were afoot to end the strike that has tied up unloading operations.

Mayor Richard Daley announced Wednesday that shipping and striking union officials would meet in Montreal with James Boyle, director of the Shipping Federation of Canada. The federation represents foreign shippers of the Great Lakes route.

In Washington, Rep. Vursell (R-Ill) said the National Labor Relations Board was sending an injunctions expert to Chicago to seek a court order aimed at ending the strike.

The strike was called April 21 by the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots of America. It hopes to try to force foreign ships to use its pilots traveling the entire Great Lakes instead of only through narrow river channels.

Longshoremen in several Great Lakes ports have honored the pilots' picket lines and incoming ships have not been unloaded.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Oils and steels led an advance in the stock market early this afternoon.

Gains among key issues ranged from fractions to around two points.

Trading was active and around Wednesday's pace.

Business news was fairly encouraging. Manufacturers' new orders, a barometer of future business, slowed their decline in March, the Commerce Department said. Oils were helped by reports the industry had gone through the worst of an inventory correction.

Gulf oil rose more than two points. Up between one and three were Amerada, Lukens, Goodrich, Kennecott, and Union Carbide.

Also higher were U.S. Steel Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Douglas, International Nickel, Allied Chemical, Texas Co. U.S. Rubber, Caterpillar, RCA, Baltimore & Ohio and Johns Manville.

U.S. government bonds declined.

State TB Chief on Local Panel For Health Discussion Monday

The 49th annual dinner meeting of the Ulster County TB and Health Association will be held Monday at 7 p. m., in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston.

Doctor Robert L. Yeager will be the guest member of the panel which will discuss facts, figures, trends and developments important to tuberculosis control. Dr. Yeager is the chairman of the New York State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, and its representative on the board of directors of the National Tuberculosis Association. He is the director of the Rockland County Tuberculosis Hospital at Pomona.

DR. ROBERT L. YEAGER

Education Necessary

In a recent release to TB Associations in New York State, Dr. Yeager said, "Current trends in the control of tuberculosis make it clear that our association must continue to re-evaluate their programs. Today our state and our local official agencies have a well-rounded program in the control of tuberculosis but our help and educational efforts will continue to be needed.

"Our primary program must now be for our local boards to intensely examine the tuberculosis and health problems in their area. Many years ago we worked countless hours to see bond issues to construct tuberculosis hospital beds. Today we must work equally hard to see that needed services are continued as the demand for beds lessens, due to improvement in treatment.

Research Essential

"We must continue to support research, which must include not only basic studies, but social research in an attempt to find better methods to motivate all people to seek and work for good health and happiness."

Other members of the panel are Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital; Miss Rose Marie Feeney, medical worker, Ulster County Department of Welfare, and Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster County commissioner of health.

Opportunity to Learn

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, Sr., president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association said, "This meeting will provide an opportunity for the residents of Ulster County to learn what they, as citizens, can do in this battle to conquer tuberculosis. The meeting is open to all folks who are members of the association through their contributions to Christmas Seals."

Reservations may be made at the Ulster County TB and Health Association headquarters at 74 John Street.

VFW Awards Six Citations; Names Miss Loyalty 1958

Six citations for various services to veterans and the community were awarded, and Miss Loyalty of 1958 was named at the fifth annual VFW Loyalty Day awards dinner Wednesday night at Saugerties Memorial Post Home, Livingston Street, Saugerties.

Lynda Jean Gardner, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gardner of Barclay Heights, a Ninth Grade student of Saugerties Central School was named Miss Loyalty 1958 on the strength of her prize winning essay on the annual observance in Saugerties.

Honor VA Officer

First of the six VFW citations presented by Post Commander Valmore Carpenter was awarded to F. William Sheehan of Mt. Tremper, Veterans Administration officer-in-charge of the Kingston office "for aid to veterans and their families."

Former Boy Scout District Commissioner William C. Plimley of Saugerties, an advisor of Explorer Post 130 was cited for "his valuable aid to the youth of the community."

Bernard E. McCutcheon, of West Camp, past VFW county commander and past Post 5034 commander, received a citation for his work as post service officer, "for outstanding and valuable services to veterans and their families."

Miss Marie M. McCutcheon of West Camp, chairman of the VFW Community Blood Bank was awarded a citation for her unselfish devotion to the management of the blood bank, and for the part its successful function played in the selection of the Saugerties VFW Post as the state's first place community service award winner.

Cited for Service

Mrs. Ruth Prendergast of West Camp, hospital services chairman was cited for "her many hours of untiring service in the hospital work at Castle Point Veterans' Hospital near Beacon."

Community Service Chairman Mrs. Thelma Shader received the final citation for her contribution of time towards the 1957 program responsible for the Saugerties VFW Post winning the state community service award.

Mrs. Prendergast, responsible for the serving of the excellent roast beef dinner, received a three-minute ovation from those assembled.

Post Commander Francis Hallion with the aid of Miss Barbara Dennis, Miss Loyalty of 1957, crowned the new Loyalty Day queen. Miss Gardner will lead the Loyalty Day Parade in Saugerties Saturday. The marchers will step off at 2 p. m. from Ulster Avenue.

Essay Winners

Following the dinner and introduction of guests by Toastmastermaster Donald G. Rice, cash awards and medals were presented to the 12 Loyalty Day essay winners as follows:

First prize — Linda Gardner, Linda Boettcher, 12, daughter of Mrs. Laura Lewis of High Woods and Mary Rosner, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rosner of South Partition Street, Saugerties.

Second prize — Karen Fous, Ninth Grade, Saugerties Central; Mary Erceg, Sixth Grade, St. Mary's School, and Linda Novak, Fourth Grade, Glasco School.

Third prize — Michael Goff, Ninth Grade, Saugerties Central; Kathleen Olsen, Seventh Grade, St. Mary's School, and Robert Kershner, Fifth Grade, Mt. Marion School.

Consolation prize — Ella F. Mower, Sixth Grade, Saxton School; John Newkirk, Sixth Grade, Hill Street School, and Kenn Copeman, Fifth Grade, Cedar Grove School.

Special Award

Young Kershner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kershner of Mt. Marion, received a special achievement award in Americanism.

Mrs. Daniel Sheehan, essay chairman was assisted in the presentation by Miss May Evans, grade supervisor of Saugerties Central School, the Rev. John Maher, assistant pastor of St. Mary's School, and Mrs. Eileen Hommel, VFW Auxiliary president.

Guest speaker Joseph T. Gumo, VFW Department of New York commander, in his address, defined the many reasons for Loyalty Day and elaborated on the current cold war status with Red Russia.

The Invocation was delivered by the Rev. Frederick J. Imhoff, president of Saugerties Area Council of Churches and pastor of Saugerties Congregational Church. The Benediction was offered by Father Maher.

Special Services

The Loyalty Day observance program Saturday includes the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass offered at St. Mary's Church at 9 a. m. and worship services at First Congregational Church at 10:30 a. m.

General chairmen of the observance are Commander Hallion and Auxiliary President Hommel. Miss McCutcheon and Mrs. Evelyn Arold are social activities chairmen.

Augustine Post

president of the Kingston Newspaper Guild, and was president of the Empire State District Council, American Newspaper Guild.

Active Civically

Long active in several organizations and volunteer capacities, he organized the Kingston Model Railroad Club 21 years ago and has since been its secretary-treasurer. He was first president of the Northeastern Region, National Model Railroad Association, and edited its magazine for three years.

Active in recent years in Boy Scout work he is cubmaster of Cub Pack 19, sponsored by VFW Post 1386. He is a member of the Rip Van Winkle Council's camp, and religious awards committees. A scoutmaster for a local contingent, National Jamboree, Valley Forge, Pa., in 1957, he holds the Scouter's Key, the National Silver Beaver Award, the Senator Thomas C. Desmond Award for service to youth, and is a Brotherhood member, Order of The Arrow, national camping society of the Boy Scouts of America.

Married to the former Elizabeth Ryder of Flatbush, Ulster county, the new commissioner has three sons, David, Phillips and Douglas. He is a member of St. James Methodist Church, currently serving on the official board of that church, a member of the Kingston Kiwanis Club, and a member of the John N. Cordts Hose Company since 1928.

Reuter Would

lobbying, including political contributions," and "manipulation of labor grievances."

Refers to Two Bosses

Reuter also said he would not rule out the possibility that, as some reports had it, the assassination of rackets czar Albert Anastasia and the attempted killing of Frank Costello were on the agenda.

The Watchdog Committee said there was evidence that the gathering may have been a meeting of the Mafia, a shadowy underworld society with roots in Sicily.

Reuter said there was "obvious support for the theory" but no "competent evidence" on which he could base a conclusion.

Reuter identified Montana as a nephew of John C. Montana, prominent Buffalo businessman who was caught by state troopers fleeing through the woods near Barbara's home.

Cites Mafia Link

Elsewhere in the report, Reuter said John Montana "is reputed to be high in Mafia circles in the Buffalo area."

Montana testified before the Watchdog Committee that he was just as innocent bystander.

Reuter also linked Montana with the Falcone brothers, Salvatore and Joseph, of Utica, who also were at Apalachin, and with Joseph DiCarlo. Reuter said DiCarlo was involved in labor and lottery rackets in Buffalo.

He said Alcoholic Tax Unit investigators believed the Falcones headed all the illicit alcohol business in the Utica area—Salvatore as boss and Joseph as his chief aide.

Reuter described Salvatore Falcone as "reputedly an important leader in the Italian underworld." He said A.T.U. agents estimated in 1937 that he was worth one to five million dollars.

Reuter included this note:

"In 1936, Salvatore visited Italy and made a large contribution to some public fund and was cited publicly by Mussolini. Upon his return from Italy, he was met in New York City by his brother and by John Montana."

Reuter noted that John Montana was cited by a fraternal organization of Buffalo police as the city's "man of the year" in 1956.

Ran for Congress

Montana operates a fleet of taxicabs and a wholesale liquor firm. He is a former city councilman and once ran for Congress.

Reuter said Montana was "closely associated" with DiCarlo. He added:

"DiCarlo was a power in Buffalo politics and it is alleged he backed Montana in all his political moves."

Reuter said he had information from "a confidential source" that Migliore drove several other men to Binghamton—to attend the Apalachin meeting—but probably did not attend himself.

Larocca was identified as an official of the Coin Distributing Co. of Pittsburgh. Reuter said Larocca had registered at a Binghamton hotel with Michael Genovese, a relative of big-time racketeer Veto Genovese. Both Genovese were caught in the raid.

Would Keep Aide

Reuter urged continuing special aid to the Tioga County District attorney so that the latter could finish a grand jury investigation of the Apalachin affair. He also recommended pressing contempt charges against witnesses who failed to respond to the jury's subpoenas.

In New York City Wednesday, Reuter presented an accounting of what he said he had accomplished since he took office Jan. 31, 1957.

The Apalachin probe, he said, had in turn led to a probe of underworld characters in Utica.

Among his other accomplishments, he said, were these:

The forced resignation of parole commissioner James R. Stone in the "Socks" Lanza parole scandal last year.

Refers to Kingston

An investigation that resulted in the resignation of the Kingston chief of police and misconduct charges against other Kingston police officers.

An investigation into irregularities in county procurement practices in Suffolk County and elsewhere.

Reuter said his probe in Utica "was soon blocked" by the Legislative Watchdog Committee, which started its own investigation. Reuter said this caused a temporary shutdown of vice and gambling in thecity and "much additional work remains to be done in Utica."

Reuter also said that some public officials in Ulster County challenged subpoenas he had issued and that he went to court to get compliance.

"During the court hearings," Reuter said, "counsel for an official under investigation produced a draft of the legislation intended to abolish our office and predicted that office would be dissolved before the litigation was decided. His prediction proved to be correct."

Reuter said "this is not the occasion to discuss the wisdom of, or the motivation for, the action of the Legislature. The fact is obvious however, that it was not for lack of accomplishment."

Times Will Publish Story Dealing With Local Problems

A New York Times reporter was in the city earlier this week getting material for an article, which is apparently due to deal with current municipal problems, it was learned today.

Inquiries made of local officials and others in the city indicated that Kingston's police department problem, the probe made there and in the county, plus recent developments on school consolidation are due for reviewing in an article probably slated for Sunday publication.

In keeping with the staid policy of The Times, it is generally expected that the article will not be as sensationally slanted as one published recently in Albany.

Regular air transport routes now connect every part of the world.

Ferrow Pleads

May 5 at 1:30 p. m. Defendant was remanded to jail.

Clarence Stanley Baum, charged with escape from prison last December 26, had his case put over to Friday at 2 p. m. Joseph Saccoman appears for defendant.

Leniency Asked

Gordon R. Hall, 31, Arena, entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny, alleged to have been committed on November 3, last, when he took a car from the Fatum garage where he had been employed. He had been indicted for grand larceny, second degree. Complaining witness asked that leniency be shown, and stated he did not desire to testify against Hall, who is a mechanic and Fatum reported he would take Hall back in his employ.

Because of the attitude of the complaining witness, the lesser plea was accepted and a second count of the indictment, charging larceny, was dismissed. Hall was sentenced to seven months in jail, credit being given for time served. Restitution is to be made. There is another warrant with the sheriff awaiting service when Hall is discharged from jail. Joseph Hill appeared for defendant by assignment.

Depends on Behavior

Salvatore Louis LaMonte, 23, Lake Katrine, charged with grand larceny, second degree, for taking dresses from an Ellenville factory, entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny.

Harry Gold appeared for defendant and said the act had been committed because the defendant was in a desperate financial situation. After taking the articles he realized the seriousness of the act and "repented." He cooperated with the officials and told them where the stolen articles were.

A letter from Mr. Rosenstock, complainant, asked that leniency be shown. LaMonte was sentenced to a year in the county jail, execution of the sentence being suspended during good behavior. A warrant from Kings County, charging parole violation is awaiting LaMonte.

Prior to adjourning court until Friday at 1:30 o'clock Judge Bruhn took official notice of the proclamation of President Eisenhower, declaring May 1, Law Day. In his remarks Judge Bruhn said:

Law Day Cited

"I would recommend that the people of our County pause and reflect upon the seriousness of such a day. We in America are the beneficiaries of the richest heritage of liberty under Law in the history of civilized peoples. This is the first time that our Nation has set aside a day to honor the Law and what it has meant and can mean to Americans."

"Law is the intangible force that makes freedom and progress possible; that brings order into the affairs of men and enables them to lift their sights above mere survival, to accumulate possessions, to develop the arts, to pursue knowledge and to enjoy life among their fellows. It gives the individual security he could obtain in no other way; it protects the family and other groups organized for the advancement of common interests; it permits the growth of great cities and the development of enterprises, large and small. In effect, it is the cement that holds our free society together.

Court Is Example

"This court of law—representative of the vast judicial system of both our state and nation—is one of the cornerstones of our structure of government under law. The judges of our courts, from the lowest to the highest, are subject to control only by the law of the land and are accountable only to their own consciences and to Almighty God. No American judge can be over-ruled by any authority on earth save that of a superior court upon appeal duly taken under the law. Every American judge presides over a court dedicated to the living American ideal of equal justice under the law."

Few Texans Leave

squalled through the threatened Dallas area.

The area also was flooded last year.

A small tornado whipped across Henderson, in east Texas, during a thunderstorm Wednesday night. No one was injured but there was wide-spread minor damage.

Several hailstorms, high winds and cloudburst rains swept from central Texas eastward.

Two adjacent states—Arkansas and Louisiana—also were beset by floodwaters.

Guard Called Out

In Arkansas, National Guardsmen were called out to aid civilians in sandbagging a levee on McKinney Bayou near Garland, 22 miles east of Texarkana. The levee protects 30,000 acres of rich farmland and 1,600 homes. A few breaks in the levee were quickly plugged.

Overflowing lakes and streams in Louisiana have flooded thousands of acres and forced evacuation from some homes in the Baton Rouge area north of New Orleans.

Marine Boss

the bill is such that some future administration might stretch it far enough to abolish a major unit of a service or whittle down a whole service — the Marines, for instance.

Eisenhower told a news conference he is not rigid on the wording of any reorganization bill. But he said any compromise on the basic essentials of the reorganization plan would mean a retreat to a dangerous degree of military ineffectiveness.

Veiling on a small hat, according to Paris notions, should be a two-inch edging of organdie dyed the same color as the hat.

She blushed and shyly consented, and he poured her out a mixture, which she delicately raised to her lips.

She—Why, you've given me Irish whiskey!

CPAs of Valley Pick Spring Valley Man as President

Myron L. Dickman of Spring Valley was elected president of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants at the recent annual meeting of the Chapter at a dinner meeting at Hotel Newburgh, Newburgh. William B. Markovits of Middletown, president, presided at the meeting.

Other names presented by Alfred Greenhut of Nyack, and elected were:

Lawrence Copans, Newburgh, vice-president; George W. Renc, Nyack, second vice-president; Charles Potenza, Poughkeepsie, treasurer; Anna Schuiman, Newburgh, secretary.

Local Man Director

Directors named for two years are:

Arthur Patterson of Kingston and Wallace Greene of Newburgh. Named for one year was Carl Kopstein of Poughkeepsie.

Officers and directors will be installed at a dinner meeting to be held at the Concord Hotel at Kiamesha Lake, Wednesday, May 21. This will continue a formal installation by the president of the entire State Society with a golf date for those able to come.

Following the election of officers, the program for the evening was presented by George W. Renc of Nyack, meeting chairman. He introduced the speaker of the evening, Normal J. Elliott, an attorney and CPA, a member of the State Society Committee on Management Advisory Services. Elliott spoke on accounting as a menagement advisory service, discussing in detail the invaluable aid of the CPA as an advisor and consultant of business problems.

Attending from Ulster County were the following CPA's: C. Lester Legg, Jr., and Leonard Rachmilowitz of Kingston and Donald Heckert of Saugerties.

Driver Arrested After 2 Trucks Are in Mishap

A Utica truck driver had another truck driver arrested Tuesday afternoon in a sideswipe accident on Route 32 near the Saugerties interchange.

On complaint of Dominick Bovee of Utica, operating a tractor-trailer, Trooper David Wachtel of the Kingston state police arrested John Telleckey of Amsterdam on a charge of reckless driving.

Telleckey was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers, town of Saugerties, entered a plea of innocent and was released in $25 bail for an appearance at 10 a. m. Tuesday, May 6.

Wachtel said both vehicles were proceeding south when Telleckey attempted to pass the tractor-trailer, sideswiping it, breaking the rearview mirror and scratching the paint, and forcing the tractor-trailer off the right side of the road.

It was reported by Bovee that Telleckey continued without stopping, that he chased him and brought him to a halt.

Summonses Issued To Owner of Dogs

Several summonses were issued last night on persons who have failed to obtain their dog licenses.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein yesterday gave notice that the summonses would be issued to some 300 persons still on the delinquent list, and some of them were issued last night.

City Clerk Raymond J. McAndrew said that after publication of the judge's notice yesterday that a few more licenses were obtained, but there is still a long delinquent list.

Notice issued says that "If licenses are obtained before the return day named in the summons, plus paying the fees and mileage for the isuing and service of summons a court action to recover penalty of $10 costs, will not be instituted.

Filipino Doctor Is Booked for Death of Nurse

NEW YORK (AP)—A married Filipino doctor, sought in the knife slaying of his blonde American girl friend, surrendered Wednesday at the Philippine consul's office. Dr. Rodrigo Sarmiento, 38, was booked today on a homicide charge.

A 13-state alarm went out for Sarmiento after the body of Margaret Kabak, 33, an instructress of nurses, was found in her family's Brooklyn apartment. She had been stabbed 15 times with a butcher knife. The two were known to have been going together since last fall.

Sarmiento and Miss Kabak both worked at the Jewish Hospital for Chronic Diseases in Brooklyn. The doctor was a resident surgery trainee.

The woman's body was found by her brother, Joseph, 25, when he returned to their home from his job.

Police said Miss Kabak broke off with Sarmiento after she learned he had a wife and four children in the Philippines.

However, a newspaper report said Miss Kabak knew all along about his family and that he told her he was not getting along with his wife. The report also said Miss Kabak had once been married and divorced.

Sarmiento's surrender came while Miss Kabak, a former Army nurse in Korea, was being buried with full military honors. Interment was in the National Cemetery at Farmingdale, N. Y.

Sarmiento told authorities he thought of giving himself up as early as last Sunday. He went to St. Patrick's Cathedral, he said, identified himself and asked to receive confession. While the priest was preparing the confessiona, the doctor vanished.

Charges Attacks Of Chest X-Ray Use Are Unfair

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Joseph B. Stocklen of Cleveland, vice president of the American Trudeau Society, says the chest X-ray used in tuberculosis control is being attacked unfairly by those who fear radiation effects.

"If you know of some better way of controlling tuberculosis, I'm sure it will be welcomed with open arms," he told the annual meeting of the New York Tuberculosis and Health Assn. yesterday.

Dr. Stocklen expressed belief that the tuberculin skin test should be developed for selective case-finding as a supplement to the chest X-ray.

Dr. Stocklen spoke after Dr. James E. Perkins, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Assn., had estimated there are two million persons in the United States with a history of tuberculosis who should be kept under medical and public health supervision.

In this number, Dr. Perkins said, there are 100,000 unknown cases, 150,000 active cases and the rest inactive.

Boston Firm Low

NEW YORK (AP) — The Beacon Construction Co. of Boston is the apparent low bidder for the job of constructing a Strategic Air Command hangar area at Griffiss Air Force Base at Rome, N. Y.

Low bids on a hangar area and electrical facilities at the base were announced Wednesday by the Army Engineers office.

The Boston firm submitted bids of $1,036,300 and $1,016,875 on two sections of the job.

Would Curb High Court

Judicial Bill Unlikely To Reach Senate Floor

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will blaze if the bill approved Wednesday by the Senate Judiciary Committee gets out on the floor for debate. But the chances are that it won't reach the floor.

The measure would curb the Supreme Court and undo the effects of some of its decisions on Communist cases. Southern Democrats, led by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), and conservative Republicans, led by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), teamed up to okay it.

Has Four Points

This bill has four parts. Here's a rundown, with background.

1. In 1957 the Supreme Court freed John T. Watkins, who had been found guilty of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer — on the grounds it wasn't pertinent to the investigation — a question put to him by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He appealed his conviction to the court.

The court ruled a congressional committee's investigating power is not unlimited; that it can't ask just any kind of question; and a witness can't be held in contempt of Congress for not answering a question that is not pertinent to the investigation.

The bill says: A man convicted of contempt of Congress — for refusing to answer a question he considers not pertinent — can't appeal to the court if the committee asking the question says it is pertinent.

Offers Vast Power

This would give any congressional committee the enormous power of a hunting license. In short: any committee could ask any kind of question, pertinent or not, so long as it said the question was pertinent.

2. In 1957 the court also ruled a state does not have the right to bar a man from law practice simply because at some previous time he had been a Communist party member. The court ruled twice on this issue:

One involved man just graduating from the University of New Mexico law school, the other just graduating from the law school of the University of Southern California. Both had been blocked from practicing law by the examing bar committees of their states.

One of the men admitted having been a Communist years before; the other balked at questions as to whether he had been a Communist. A string of witnesses testified to the good character of both men. But the bar committees decided both were questionable characters.

Rules Out Appeal

They appealed to the Supreme Court under the 14th Amendment, which guarantees no man shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. The court said they had been denied due process.

The bill says: In the future the Supreme Court could not hear such appeals. In short: each state would decide for itself who could practice law, whether or not the decision might be unconstitutional.

3. In 1956 the court said states no longer could prosecute people for subversion against the United States. The reason given: because the federal government has a law —the Smith Act—to handle cases like that and the federal law supersedes the state laws.

In this case the court threw out the conviction of Steve Nelson, an acknowledged Communist, who had been found guilty of subversion in a Pennsylvania state court, where he was tried under state law.

Gives Power to States

The bill says: The states—42 of them have subversion laws of some kind—shall have the right to try people for subversion against the United States.

4. In 1952 fourteen California Communists had been convicted of plotting to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the government. The Supreme Court in 1957 threw out five of the convictions and ordered the other nine retried.

Justice Harlan, writing the majority opinion, said the trial judge had failed to point out the distinction between talking about overthrowing the government as an "abstract principle" and advocating action to bring it about.

He said "preaching abstractedly" the government's overthrow was not a crime.

The bill would knock out this ruling and this distinction by amending the law—the Smith Act —to make advocacy of overthrow a crime, without action to bring it about.

This raises an immediate and simple kind of question: suppose a man, not a Communist but angry about his taxes, told some neighbors the government should be overthrown. Could he be tried under this section of the bill? It would seem so.

How can Congress say what kind of cases can be appealed to the Supreme Court? Does it have the right? Article 3 of the Constitution says Congress can make exceptions on the kind of cases that can be appealed to the court.

One thing is sure: if this bill became law, people convicted under it would test its constitutionality fast by appealing to the Supreme Court.

Marital Surprise

NEW YORK, (AP)—"There are always surprises in marriage, even after 30 years," says Alfred Lunt, star actor and husband of the equally renowned Lynn Fontanne. As an example, Lunt recalled he was just about to go onstage one evening when his wife casually declared she could play the trombone. "I'd never heard of such a thing in all our years," he said, "and I couldn't say more than 'What?' before the curtain went up. Imagine the suspense of having to play an entire act under such circumstances." It turned out Miss Fontanne played trombone at age 7.

The United States Constitution went into effect on March 4, 1789.

SITUATION IS WELL IN HAND—The tallest lady Marine in history, Miss Elizabeth Ann Sandra Jindra, 20, receives help with her indoctrination reading from Marine Sgt. Clarence Dundek after she was sworn in in Cleveland, O. The six-foot, five-inch, 175-pound beauty, from South Euclid, O., had previously been barred from enlisting because she was seven inches over the regulation five feet, 10-inch height for women Marines. She received an unprecedented waiver through the efforts of Congs. Francis Bolton and Charles Vanik. She will receive basic training at Paris Island and be issued uniforms.

6,000 to Hear Space Problems

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Six thousand picked Oklahoma high school students today got a first hand report on what it will take to put a man in space.

To explain the problems that are involved, the Air Force sent its top space brains, including the head of the ballistic missiles and space flight branch, Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever.

Backing the conference was the Frontiers of Science, a private group of Oklahomans interested in boosting science.

Invited to the affair were the top students of 400 state high schools.

For their benefit, the Air Force set up a giant Thor missile, then laid out a series of elaborate exhibits in the municipal auditorium on various phases of space development.

Restore Confidence And Beat Recession, Auto Dealers Aver

By CLETE JONES

CLEVELAND (AP) — Restore customers' shaky confidence and the recession is dead.

That's the theory of two Cleveland automobile dealers, Leo J. Conway and David Blaushild, who are whooping it up for bigger and better sales efforts by retailers, particularly new car salesmen.

"The money is there," Blaushild contends, "and the public wants to buy. But they're afraid."

"Really a pair of workers," President Eisenhower said after a half-hour meeting at the White House last week with the two businessmen who originated the "You Auto Buy Now" idea, which has spread nationally. The President agreed better salesmanship could spark economic recovery.

They told Eisenhower of their plan to post manufacturers' suggested prices on new cars. Dealers would be bonded to assure the prices were quoted properly.

The idea of a firm price and bonded dealers, Eisenhower said later at his news conference, would assure that "this business of undercutting and every other kind of bad practice will not keep people from buying.

"If everybody knows what he has to pay, and these people are so bonded, then confidence tends to go up."

Preaching hope in the economic future, Conway and Blaushild returned home and convinced the 138-member Cleveland Auto Dealers Assn. to adopt the plan. It goes into effect here next week, Blaushild said.

The 62-year-old Conway and Blaushild, 41, have been friends for years. They also are competitors.

Their showrooms in suburban Shaker Heights are less than two blocks apart.

Shortest verse in the Bible is in the New Testament, St. John 1:35, and consists of two words, nine letters: "Jesus wept."

TYPEWRITER THERAPY—Richard McNaughton, right, industrial chairman of the 1958 Cerebral Palsy campaign and Robert Hasbrouck, vice-chairman, observe progress made by Sharon Gricewich of Wallkill who is receiving treatment on an electric typewriter. The machine has a special keyguard to develop hand strength and coordination. Today, the official palsy fund drive begins for $32,000 in Ulster County and will continue throughout the month. STILL GOING STRONG AT 132—Swami Govind Bharti, better known in Kathmandu, Nepal, as Swami Shivapuri, claims to be 132 years old. The spry Swami, who attributes his long life to a vegetarian diet, lots of mental rest, and little physical labor, says he has traveled all over the world, including visits to Russia, England and the United States. The Swami says that "the cities of New York and Washington were still under expansion by hard-working people" when he visited them. He sleeps only two hours a day and subsists on a pint and a half of fresh cow's milk a day.

World Briefs

LONDON (AP)—Newspaper critics gave old George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" a hearty welcome home from America today in its new guise as the hit musical "My Fair Lady."

The musical began its London run Wednesday night with the leads again played by Rex Harrison, Julie Andrews and Stanley Holloway, Britons all, from the original New York cast.

The critics were all favorably disposed toward it, and a cheering capacity crowd of 2,300 gave the cast 10 curtain calls.

ADEN (AP) — Reinforcements Wednesday night relieved a besieged British garrison on the Yemeni border after fighting their way through though rebel resistance.

The British army announced the British-officered Adenese troops moved under rebel fire from their hilltop position two miles from surrounded Ft. Assarir. The announcement mentioned no casualties.

Friends said the 28-year-old song and dance star had been despondent.

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy (AP) —Pasquale Fedele stayed late at the bar Wednesday night in the village of Calanna. As he drank, a landslide crashed down on his home and his next door neighbor's.

Twelve persons were buried—Pasquale's wife, five children and mother-in-law, and five neighbors.

Rescue squads said there was almost no chance that any of the 12 were alive.

The museum had notified the U. S. Embassy in Tokyo that the worms in its 25-year-old silk mill were degenerating and asked for replacements.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek and his wife tonight gave their annual reception honoring the anniversary of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group, set up on Formosa May 1, 1951.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese fishing captain today reported his trawler was strafed northwest of the east Indonesian island of Celebes April 21. One crewman was killed and three were wounded.

The skipper, said his ship was flying the Nationalist flag but he could not spot any insignia on the plane which machine-gunned the vessel.

LONDON (AP) — British rock 'n' roll idol Tommy Steele, knocked unconscious by a mob of fans, called in his doctors today and canceled public appearances until further notice. Steele's agents said he is resting in his Edinburgh hotel.

England's tousle-haired answer to Elvis Presley wound up on the floor with his guitar-twanging right arm twisted behind his back, his shirt ripped off, and tufts of hair torn out after a concert in Dundee, Scotland. He was carried unconscious to his dressing room.

Skirmish With Success

NEW YORK, (AP)—Cy Feuer and Ernie Martin, holders of a record string of five consecutive Broadway hits, have set a date for their sixth production skirmish with success. "Whoop-Up!" a musical comedy based on the Dan Cushman novel "Stay Away, Joe," goes into rehearsal next October with White Way premiere set for Dec. 18. The producing team have made the stage adaptation and Feuer will probably direct. The music has been done by Morris Charlap, the lyrics by Norman Gimbel.

Princess to Visit N-F

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP) — Princess Margaret will visit Niagara Falls Aug. 1 on her summer visit to Canada.

Mayor Ernest M. Hawkins said yesterday the princess would arrive at 10:30 a. m. and remain about six hours.

Single Fan

Matter of FACT

The first metropolitan police force, formed for the exclusive purpose of enforcing law and preventing crime, was organized in 1829 in London, England by Sir Robert Peel, the British home secretary. He had first experimented with such a force, called the "Peelers," in Ireland. To this day London policemen are called "bobbies," after Peel's nickname, "Bobby."

Army Satellites Show Shields Needed on Radiation in Space

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Evidence of an unidentified form of radiation which may require special shielding precautions for space travel has been picked up by the Army's Explorer satellites.

So intense is the radiation—believed to come from the sun—that it caused cosmic ray counters aboard the two satellites to die out at times.

This was reported today to a special meeting of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Physical Society, called to hear first reports of preliminary scientific information from the satellites.

In addition to the report on the unidentified radiation, the various scientific accounts featured these announcements:

1. Temperatures within Explorer I have ranged from 32 to 104 degrees Fahrenheit — within the range of human survival—even though temperatures outside may vary from about 120 degrees below zero to about 800 degrees above. The reporting scientists said even less internal variation could be achieved.

2. Only seven hits by micrometeorites—tiny, speeding particles of space dust which might present another hazard to space travel—were recorded by Explorer I during a period of a month—and apparently none of them penetrated the satellite's shell.

3. The atmosphere 230 miles above the earth is 14 times more dense than was believed in the presatellite era, according to calculations of a Smithsonian scientist.

Strangled by Plate

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Army authorities said today one paratrooper strangled to death when a partial dental plate lodged in his windpipe during a mass air drop here last week.

Maj. L. A. Breault, public information officer, said a partially completed investigation showed three other men strangled to death when parachute suspension lines tangled around their necks.

Driver Is Held After 208 Mishap

Earl Moore, 34, of Highland, was arrested early this morning on a charge of driving while intoxicated after his car went out of control on Route 208 in the town of Gardiner, striking a sign, a tree and a store front.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Warren McDowell and committed to the Ulster County jail in lieu of $100 bail pending a hearing at 7 p. m. Saturday, May 10.

Troopers J. F. Franke and Wallace Mahan of the Highland state police arrested Moore after the mishap which occurred about a mile south of Ireland Corners.

He was operating a 1955 sedan north down a slight grade and around a right curve at the time of the accident. The store is owned by Dominick Formisano of Gardiner.

Vidal Working on Drama

NEW YORK, (AP)—Gore Vidal, playright who provided Broadway with a comedy hit in "Visit to a Small Planet," is working now on a drama concerning the Civil War. The play is tentatively entitled "Look Away, Look Away!" The plot concerns the effects of the conflict on a small Georgia town occupied by Northern troops. The production is tentatively on the 1958-'59 Broadway agenda.

Rejection Looms For 2-Way Radio Bids Next Week

Two bids submitted for two-way radio for Ulster County volunteer firemen and county official use as well as Civil Defense, will probably be rejected by the board of supervisors at its meeting next Tuesday. The bids will be rejected since the specifications do not comply with, or measure up the CD requirements under which Civil Defense funds would be available for half the cost.

The job will probably be readvertised.

Meanwhile it is reported the CD monies, which have been made available for the job, will be held under an order of extension pending receipt of new bids, CD authorities report.

Two bids were received. General Electric bid $98,225.79 and Motorola $101,500. However, there was a question as to whether the General Electric bid measured up to the specifications which had once been revised. At the last meeting of the board of supervisors action on awarding the contract was postponed pending determination as to whether the specifications would meet the CD standard.

It has been ascertained they do not meet the CD requirements and new specifications will have to be prepared and submitted for bids.

Federal funds for this work, which would normally become unavailable before the new bids were received, have been earmarked for Ulster County and CD officials report they will be available.

Hoover to Leave Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)— Former President Herbert Hoover, convalescing from a gall bladder operation, will be released from the Harkness Pavilion of the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center early next week.

The hospital said today Hoover, 83, was "practically back to normal and getting along fine."

Office Booming For Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—"Draft Rockefeller for Governor Headquarters" has been opened at the Hotel Bedford in mid-Manhattan.

An aide of Nelson A. Rockefeller said that no comment would be made on the move.

John A. Roosevelt, Republican son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, opened the Rockefeller headquarters Wednesday. Roosevelt is president of the Metropolitan Political Club, an insurgent GOP group.

Roosevelt told a group of about 75 at the headquarters opening that the main tasks ahead are to: "show the leaders of the Republican Party. . .that Nelson A. Rockefeller is the overwhelming choice of the enrolled Republicans of our state;" and "convince Mr. Rockefeller that he has a duty to serve the people of New York State" as governor.

The task of convincing Rockefeller "is not an easy one," Roosevelt added.

Rockefeller, philanthropist who has held federal posts, has said he is not seeking the Republican nomination for governor.

750,000 Licenses For Chauffeurs To Expire May 31

State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly today cautioned all chauffeurs to check the expiration date on their New York licenses. Approximately 750,000 licenses, issued in 1955, are scheduled to expire at midnight, May 31.

During the next 22 working days, Bureau offices will be busy renewing those licenses and chauffeurs are urged to get the job done as quickly before the deadline as possible.

Commissioner Kelly also reminded chauffeurs to answer all questions on the license blank pertaining to their health. A doctor's statement is required for renewal in all cases where there is a history of fainting spells, diabetes, stroke, Bright's disease, excessively high blood pressure or any heart ailment.

If the affliction occurred prior to the date the last license was obtained, the license will be renewed immediately if the application is accompanied by a physician's statement that the applicant is capable of operating safely on the highways, but the case will be subject to later review.

However, if the affliction occurred since the last license was issued, the license will not be granted until the case has been reviewed by the Bureau's safety division in Albany. The Application and physician's statement will be accepted but issuance will be deferred pending review.

Speaker Is Named For Altar Society Breakfast Sunday

The Rev. George F. McKinney, Catholic Chaplain at the Wallkill Medium Security Prison, will be the guest speaker at the second annual communion breakfast of St. Ann's Altar Rosary Society, Sawkill, Sunday, May 18. The breakfast will be held at the Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties, following the 8 a. m. Mass at St. Ann's Church.

Father McKinney will speak on juvenile delinquency and crime on a nationwide basis as cited in a recent report of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He will point out the responsibility of parents, teachers and community leaders in this work of youth rehabilitation.

Father McKinney was ordained in 1939, served as chaplain at the Harlem Valley State Hospital, Wingdale, for three years, in a New York parish for one year, and has been serving in his present capacity for the past 15 years. He is past president of the National Chaplain's Association, an organization representing three faiths; present State Chaplain for the Junior Catholic Daughters of America, which group numbers about 4000 teenagers; a Faithful Friar, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Newburgh Assembly; and prison adviser of Special Social Services, New York City.

Enlistment Option Is Told by Army

M/Sgt. Walter Gosling, local U. S. Army Recruiter at 309 Wall Street, second floor, has announced a new enlistment option for interested applicants. There are now openings for the Army Air Defense Command Guided Missile Units.

Under this program an applicant may select any three metropolitan areas of his own preferance for assignment. Among the 30 areas he may choose from are Boston, Baltimore, Los Angeles or San Francisco.

Upon completion of basic training an applicant will be sent to the guided missile unit which he previously selected where he will receive guided missile or electronic training. Upon satiscfactory completion of this training he may apply for further specialized training.

M/Sgt. Gosling will be in the local office daily from 2:30 to 5 p. m. and Saturday from 8 a. m. to noon.

New Paltz Area Methodist Notes

Pastor Re-Appointed

At the 159th session of the New York Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, held in New York City from April 24 to April 27, the Rev. Williett R. Porter Jr., pastor of the New Paltz Methodist Parish for the past seven years was re-appointed for another year by Bishop Frederick Buckley Newell, presiding Bishop of the New York area. This appointment includes the ministry in the Methodist Churches of New Paltz, Lloyd and Plutarch as well as a ministry to the Methodist students at the State Teachers College. In this latter area an appropriation was made by the Board of World Service and Finance of the Conference for part-time assistance in the field of student work.

Communion Sunday

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered by the Rev. Mr. Porter in the three churches of the New Paltz Methodist Parish Sunday. The day will begin with the "early service" at 8:30 a. m. in New Paltz, followed by the 9:30 a. m. service in the Lloyd Church. At 11 a. m. in the New Paltz Church the sacrament will be administered and the officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be installed. The service in the Plutarch Church will be at 2 p. m.

Organists for these services will be Miss Mary Lou Dunham, George Meyer and Mrs. Eugene Trautwein. Robert Brearey will direct the New Paltz Senior Choir.

The Rev. Mr. Porter emphasizes "the importance of attendance this coming Sunday to participate in this most sacred act of worship in the Christian Church."

Annual Spring Dinner

The annual spring dinner of the New Paltz Methodist Church will be held Wednesday, May 14, at the social hall of the New Paltz Methodist Church with servings at 5:30 and 7 p. m. The entree will be ham.

Family Life Conference

Mrs. Millard Davis, county leader in Child Development and Family Relationships, Miss Everice Parsons, county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. Raymond Korzendorfer of the Mawak Study Club attended the Family Life Conference for leaders held at the New York College of Home Economics this past week.

The theme of the conference was Family Strength in a Changing World. Mrs. Anne W. N. Wolf, a member of the staff of the Child Study Association of America, gave the keynote address.

Other featured speakers were Dr. Alfred L. Baldwin, Head of the Department of Child Development and Family Relationships, whose topic was "Children Who Can Face Tomorrow" and a report on Extension Service work in India by Benjamin Chitambar.

Special sessions were held on such topics as "Helping Children Understand Death," "Helping Young People in Career Choice," "Working and Living with the Tween-Ager," "Anticipating the Challenge of the Middle Years."

Housing Tour

Seventen persons, undeterred by the rain, took part in the Housing Tour held Monday, April 28. Visits were paid to homes to see refinished and stencilled articles made by the hostesses, interesting and adequate storage arrangements, convenient kitchens, recreation rooms, etc.

Stops were made at the Carlton Beach's in High Falls, the Sanford Cross' nearly completed new home in Alligerville, the John Schoonmaker's in Accord, and the Francis Davenport's in Stone Ridge.

District Achievement Days

The Home Demonstration Department of the Ulster County Extension Service invites interested members and friends to attend the five district achievement days to be held in the near future. At each one efforts are being made to demonstrate through brief reports and/or displays the results of unit activities carried on in the 1957-58 program year. In some cases there are additional features planned such as fashion show, modeling of hats.etc.

The dates and places follow:

Tuesday, May 6, 8 p. m.—Hurley Firehouse. Display of achievements and refreshments. Units participating are: Old Hurley, Hurley Heights, Hurley Vale, Kingurley, Yelruh, Lomontville. Mrs. Douglas Masterson of Kingurley Unit, Chairman.

Olive Home Unit

The Olive Home Extension Unit will be hostess at "Achievement Night" on Thursday, May 8 at 7 p. m. in the Onteora School at Boiceville. Members of the Woodstock, Saxton, Centerville, Overlook, West Hurley, Saugerties Day and Saugerties Evening Units will participate in this event.

Many projects will be displayed. There will be a fashion show and modeling of various types of hats. On the program also is a bit of entertainment following the serving of refreshments.

All members are urged to attend and bring along their finished project for the affair.

Plans for Fashion Show at Twaalfskill Are in Progress Here

Lady golf members of Twaalfskill Club have made final arrangements for a fashion show and tea on Tuesday, May 13 at 3 p. m. in the dining room and lounge of the club.

Mrs. Reuben Leventhal will be the commentator.

Members of Twaalfskill who will model include the Mmes. William Harris, Edward Remmert, Burton S. Davis, Floyd Flint, Robert Russell and Elbert MacFadden.

At the conclusion of the fashion show, Jerry Zadan, director of the Arthur Murray Dance Studio, now located in the Burgevin Building, will give a dance exhibition with one of his dancing partners. It will be his second appearance in Kingston having been on stage in January for the March of Dimes show held in the high school auditorium.

Reservations should be made with Mrs. Eugene Berardi or Mrs. Frank Matthews.

Public is cordially invited.

Begin Search for Miss Saugerties 1959, Nominating Blanks Available in Stores

The search for Miss Saugerties 1959 will begin this week with the distribution of nominating applications available in the business establishments in the Saugerties area, it was announced today by Mrs. Joan Feldman, pageant chairman.

The annual search for the official emissary of Saugerties is conducted by Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce. The Miss Saugerties pageant will be conducted by the social activities committee of the Chamber.

Committee members include last year's chairman, Mrs. Irene Roming, past president Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., Albert J. Cawein, Mrs. John Kaminski and Mrs. Willett Overbaugh. Additional committee announcements will be made following a meeting of the general committee.

The contest is open to girls 16 to 26 years of age, residents of the Town or Village of Saugerties, and unmarried.

The winner and attendants will receive gifts donated by Saugerties area businessmen. The pageant awards a siver loving cup to the winner.

Last year's winner was Kay Moose of West Camp. Prizes totaling nearly $1,000 were divided by the winner, attendants and finalists.

The deadline for nominations is Monday, June 9, after which the contestants will be interviewed on preliminaries.

Arrangements for the pageant and the annual coronation ball will be announced at a later date.

Judging will be on face, figure, personality and poise. Three prominent persons chosen from outside the boundary limits of the Town of Saugerties will serve as judges.

Any person or organization may nominate an eigible young lady. Only one nomination of a candidate is necessary.

ENSIGN AND MRS. VINCENT N. WARD

Patricia Dunne Weds Ensign Vincent Ward In Double Ring Ceremony on April 19

Miss Patricia Ann Dunne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Dunne of Fresh Meadows, L. I., became the bride of Ensign Vincent Noel Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ward of 97 Clifton Avenue, Saturday, April 19 at 11 a. m. in Holy Family Church, Fresh Meadows, L. I.

Cecil Lamb was at the organ. Soloist was Margaret Kelly.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white peau de soie gown of re-embroidered French Alencon lace styled with a full length skirt. She also wore a full length silk veil of French illusion. The bride carried white camelias on a white prayer book.

Miss Eileen Dunne, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a white embroidered nylon organdy gown over mint green taffeta in ballerina length. She carried yellow daffodils and white iris.

The Misses Jeanne Brown and Cornelia Perry served as bridesmaids. Miss Brown is the bridegroom's niece. The girls were attired in white embroidered nylon organdy over buttercup yellow taffeta. They carried yellow daffodils and purple iris.

Miss Elizabeth Dunne, sister of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a white nylon organdy embroidered with yellow daisies over mint green. She carried yellow daisies.

Raymond Ward, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man. Ushers included Ensign Stephen Lyons; Ensign David Welles; Ensign Andrew Conklin; and Ensign Frederick Trumpler.

A reception was held at Patricia Murphy's "Candlelight" in the Garden Room, Yonkers.

The bride is a graduate of the Mary Louis Academy and St. John's University where she majored in economics. Her husband is an alumnus of Kingston High School and New York State Maritime College. He is now in the service of the U. S. Navy stationed at San Diego, Calif.

AN UNWELCOMED MONEY GIFT

Dear Mrs. Post: Several months ago my husband and I visited some friends who had lived here but moved several hundred miles away to a new house. We had never exchanged gifts at any time but I thought it would be nice just this once to take a small gift for their new house. We had a return visit from them last week and when they left I found ten dollars on the dresser for me to buy something for my house. I thought this was uncalled for as our house is not a new one and I rather resent her leaving this money. Would it be proper to return it to her?

Answer: I can understand your feelings, but after all the money was left with the kindest of intentions and if you return it you would surely offend your friend. If you can bring yourself to do it, write her a note thanking her for her gift and say what you bought with it.

Leaving the Wedding Reception

Dear Mrs. Post: As the bridegroom's parents we'd like to know whether we are expected to remain at the wedding reception until the very end? Someone told me it would be the height of rudeness to leave any sooner.

Answer: Unless you have some real excuse such as having to catch a train for home, you should stay until the bride and groom leave, after that you are quite free to go.

Wrong, Even Though Well Meant

Dear Mrs. Post: What can a woman do when a man propels her along the sidewalk by the elbow? I know she is supposed to take his arm when she needs any assistance, and I also believe that ideally he offers it to her.

Answer: About the only thing she can do is to pull her arm away and say frankly, "I'd rather take your arm!"

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Leaflet E-16, "Table Rules of Importance," describes how to eat broiled lobster, soup in cups, cheese and baked potato. Members Campaign For Community Series Now in Progress Here

The first report on renewals and possible new subscriptions obtained during the current week will be made at the Community Concert Association meeting of workers at the Governor Clinton Hotel Sunday at 4:30 p. m. The occasion will mark the beginning of the 30th anniversary year for the local association and also the beginning of the annual membership drive lasting until a week from Saturday, noontime, May 10.

During these last few days, about 100 workers will endeavor to over-subscribe the membership for the seventh consecutive year. Admission to the series of three concerts next winter at the Community Theatre, Broadway, is by membership card only obtained at this time.

Anyone may join simply by paying the annual dues before next week's deadline.

Artists for two of the programs have been announced as Roberta Peters, famous Metropolitan Opera coloratura soprano; and the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington, D. C., Howard Mitchell conducting.

Tri-County Meeting Attended by Area Club Members Here

Mrs. William J. McVey, chairman of the State Federation Arts and Crafts Committee for Tri-County Women's Clubs attended a tri-county meeting Friday, April 25, at Williams Lake Hotel, at which the Rosendale Woman's Club was hostess.

Presiding was Mrs. William Kloepfer, Ulster County Chairman and member of the hostess club.

Participating in the business session of the meeting were Mrs. William Romary, third district director, Miss Alice Scardefield, former district director and Mrs. Joseph Hill, former county chairman from the Rosendale Club.

Members of clubs from Greene, Sullivan and Ulster County attended.

Annual elections was held and Mrs. Grace Fink of Greene County was named chairman. She succeeds Mrs. Wallace Chadderdon. Mrs. Donald L. Gipson of Sullivan County was elected to succeed Mrs. Wesley Durland.

Kenneth Hasbrouck, guest speaker, spoke about the history of New York State. He particularly stressed the Rosendale area and how it got its name.

Mr. Hasbrouck said that the growth of Ulster County was influenced a great deal by trade on the Hudson River, shipbuilding, railroads and cement industry. The early houses were of stone primarily because people had built of stone in the old country. Towns were created in order that people could vote near home. Mr. Hasbrouck said that New Paltz was established in 1677, Marbletown in 1772 and Rosendale in 1844.

Clubs represented included Sorosis Club of Kingston; Twentieth Century Club, Kingston; Monday Council Club, Acra; Concordia Circle, Greenville Center; Saugerties Monday Club, Saugerties; Woman's Club of Rosendale.

Area residents attending were Mrs. McVey, Mrs. Arthur Monell, Mrs. Fred Ertel, Mrs. Gene Van Winkle, Mrs. Raymond S. Quackenbush.

Auxiliary President Attends Association Meeting in Harriman

Mrs. Edward Dolan, president of the Benedictine Auxiliary and Mrs. John McCardle, publicity chairman, attended a meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary Division of the New York State Hospital Association on Monday. The meeting was held at Arden House at Harriman.

Mrs. Dolan was one of the main speakers at the morning session. Her topic was "Volunteer Services of the Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary." Representatives of other hospital auxiliaries, as well as officials of the Auxiliary Division and the Hospital Association also spoke at this meeting. The Hospital Auxiliary Division is a newly formed section of the Hospital Association of which the Benedictine Auxiliary is a member.

Arden House is a part of Columbia University. It was given to the university by Gov. Harriman in memory of his parents. It serves as a campus for some university groups as well as a meeting place for other public educational groups. The American Assembly, formed by President Eisenhower while he was president of Columbia University for the purpose of discussing national problems, also meets at Arden House.

Farm Prices Up Another 1.14 PC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Record high prices for fruits and vegetables and substantial rises in prices of cotton and some feed grains sent the general level of farm prices up another 1.14 per cent during the month ended April 15.

This increase came on top of a 4 per cent upturn in March to strengthen Secretary of Agriculture Benson in his forecast that farm income in 1958 would top that of 1957 by from 5 to 10 per cent. It put farm prices at the highest point since January 1953, the month the Eisenhower administration took office.

87 PC of Parity

The April price movement, reported late Wednesday by the Federal Crop Reporting Board, was accompanied by a one per cent increase in the level of prices paid by farmers for goods and services used in production and family living.

Wednesday's price report did not take into account modest declines in prices of hogs and cattle that have taken place since mid-April. These setbacks, which were seasonal in character, will show up in a price report to be issued a month from now.

The increase in prices of fruits, vegetables, cotton and feed grains was offset in part by declines in prices for dairy products, eggs and poultry — declines which also were seasonal in character.

Weather Is Factor

The report showed that corn prices jumped 12 cents a bushel or 12 per cent during the four-week period. This development could well influence some livestock farmers to ease up somewhat on recent heavy feedings of hogs and cattle. Such a development would be reflected in increases in market supplies of hogs and cattle.

Retired Conductor, Wife Die in Crash

MOOERS FORKS, N. Y. (AP)—A married couple died Wednesday night in a crash when their automobile left Route 11 about a mile north of this Clinton County community.

The dead were identified as Colson Derrick, 63, of Rouses Point, a retired Canadian National Railways conductor, and his wife, Hortense, 60.

Clinton Avenue Church Site of Rally Saturday

Senior Captain Foster Meitrott, local officer in charge, announces that two sessions with these young people will be held. Guest speaker will be Brigadier Paul S. Kaiser, divisional commander of the Salvation Army from the Albany headquarters. Brigadier Kaiser will be accompanied by Mrs. Kaiser and Senior Captain and Mrs. Frank Moody.

One of the features of the rally will be a public march of these young people, headed by the Young People's Band of the Troy, New York Corps, under the leadership of Senior Captain Kenneth Wheatley and Bandmaster Harry Stockwell.

Edwin M. Ford, chairman of the local advisory board, will extend greetings to visiting delegations.

The first session of the group will be held at 10:30 a. m. The public demonstration and parade will be held at 1 o'clock. This will be followed by the afternoon and final session at the church.

B'nai B'rith Women Announce Activity Plans for Group

Mrs. Arnold Pinsly, new president of Kingston's B'nai B'rith Chapter, announced plans for a coffee hour, a rummage sale and a paid-up membership dinner following a board meeting recently at her home.

Invitations for a coffee hour for prospective members are now in the mail, according to Mrs. Harold Schorr, second vice president. The affair will be held Thursday evening, May 8, at the home of Mrs. Leonard Bard, first vice president.

The organization's spring rummage sale is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, May 19 and 20, at 126 Broadway. A committee was chosen to pick up articles for the sale and to sort them the previous Sunday. Members will be asked to gather together clothing and place it outside their homes on Sunday the 18th to facilitate picking it up.

Mrs. Pinsly announced that Mrs. Max Goldberg, a new member, will be chairman for the annual paid-up membership dinner. Preliminary plans for the dinner set it for May 28 at Ahavath Israel Synagogue. Members will cook and serve the meal.

Other items discussed at the board meeting include the community-wide celebration of Israel's 10th birthday. The group voted to allocate funds to help finance this celebration which will take place May 29. The women and the men's lodge are planning to sponsor a trip to the Catskill Game Farm for youngsters from the Children's Home. Members also will be asked to contribute bits of yard goods and jewelry to the Kingston Infirmary where patients will use the materials in rehabilitation classes.

Luncheon Will Mark Annual Meeting of Hospital Auxiliary

At their regular meeting this week the Auxiliary of Kingston Hospital announced plans for their annual meeting to be held in May. This will take the form of a luncheon to be held at the Williams Lake Hotel in Rosendale on Tuesday, May 27 at 1 p. m. A special feature of the luncheon will be a fashion show to be staged by Mrs. John Hathmaker. There will also be a short business meeting at which the election of officers for the 1958-59 season will take place.

Mrs. Alan Mickel, acting as spokesman for the nominating committee, announced the slate of candidates to be presented at the annual meeting. The following persons were nominated for office for the 1958-59 year: Mmes. Gifford Beal, president; D. Cioni, first vice-president; Miss Marguerite Meyers, second vice-president; Adrian Kaplan, treasurer; R. E. McNaughton, recording secretary ;and T. R. Smalldon, corresponding secretary.

Plans for the celebration of National Hospital Week in May were also discussed and will feature publicity through the radio and newspaper and at the local high schools on the recruiting of students in the nursing fields. The Mmes. George Rifenbary, Peter Corsones and William Keyser will be working on this project.

The auxiliary also made plans to send Mrs. Gifford Beal to the Mid-Atlantic Conference in Atlantic City during the summer.

Participation in these regional conferences has been found to be of great value in the conduct of our local program.

Mrs. Dominic Cioni, chairman of the card party committee, presented a report on this highly successful venture and announced that the entire proceeds would be turned over to the administrator of the hospital for the purchase of desk chairs for one of the classrooms used by the school of nursing.

Community Chorus Plans Concert at New Paltz College

The College-Community Chorus of the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, will present a spring concert Wednesday, May 7 in the College Auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

This is one of several events scheduled for the week of May 4-11 at the College which is a part of a State Open House celebration. All of the State agencies will open their doors during the week, and the general public is invited.

Works by Brahms, Rachmaninoff, Palestrina, Morley, Byrd, and Beethoven are included in the program. The climax of the evening will be an extensive work by Kodaly, the Te Deum. Soloists for this last named work will be: Mrs. George Bond, soprano, New Paltz; Mrs. Robert Gustafson, alto, Poughkeepsie; John Vett, tenor, New Paltz and Spencer Barnett, bass, Beacon.

Other special features of the concert will be use of harpsichord and recorders to accompany madrigalian numbers. Solo numbers on these instruments will be played.

The conductor of the College-Community Chorus is Horace Fishback, visiting lecturer in music, who holds degrees from Carleton College and Harvard University, and who is also Director of Music at the Webb Horton Memorial Church in Middletown, New York. Mrs. Arthur Kurtz, organist at the Reformed Church in New Paltz, is the accompanist.

Reon - Myers Wedding Is Announced Here; Double Ring Ceremony Held at St. Mary's

Miss Fleurette I. Reon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Reon of 36 Hoffman Street, became the bride of James Raeburn Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raeburn J. Myers of Troy, Saturday, April 19, at St. Mary's Church. The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly. A reception was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Gerard Geuss, cousin of the bride, sang Ave Maria accompanied at the organ by Theodore Riccobono.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Charles King. She wore a gown of silk organza and Alencon lace with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. A bouffant skirt terminated in a brush train. Her headpiece was a coronet of seed pearls and veiling of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of camelias and ivy.

Miss Amelia Altamari, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Cathleen O'Reilly, Joan Wilson and Phyllis Hathmaker. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore periwinkle blue chiffon and satin gowns with scoop neckline and harem draped skirt with matching hats. They carried cascades of blue and white daisies.

Alan Deegan was best man. The ushers were the Messrs. Donald Kingsley, Paul Keopke and Brad Strait.

The bride is a graduate of Syracuse University. Her husband, an alumnus of Syracuse University, is a member of Phi Gamma Delta and will be stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., while attending the Basic Officers Infantry School.

Prospective Bride Of Earl E. Carle

SHIRLEY J. HOFFAY

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Hoffay of 160 Tremper Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Jean, to Earl E. Carle Jr., of 507 Broadway.

The bride-elect is a senior at Kingston High School. Her fiance who attended Arlington High School, is employed by Bantam Toys Inc.

O'Bryon - Detlaff Wedding Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Helen O'Bryon of Kingston and Arnold A. Detlaff of Minot, N. D., on March 16 at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Kingston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Martin P. Dienst, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Fay R. Richert and James O'Bryon were the attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Detlaff are now residing at 201 7th Street, N. W., Minot, N. D. They were recently honored at a reception given by Immanuel Lutheran Church, Lynch, N. D. and at a dinner given by Dakota Boys' Ranch members, of which Mr. Detlaff is a director. Also at a dinner given by business associates there.

Bruhn Denies Move

An application by defendant to set aside the $1,000 verdict returned Tuesday by the jury in a negligence action brought by Frederick Brink Jr., of Kingston against Donald E. Gregory and another, was denied by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn Thursday afternoon. The action arose out of on automobile accident on Hasbrouck Avenue at East Chester Street. Richter and Werbalowsky appeared for plaintiff and Howard C. St. John for defendant.

Raise Drinking Age to 21, Says Jersey Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New Jersey congresswoman is urging a congressional recommendation to New York State to raise its legal drinking age from 18 to 21.

Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, a Republican, has been calling for the age change for some time on the ground that juvenile drinking contributes to delinquency in neighboring states as well as in New York.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Dwyer asked Chairman Hennings (D-Mo) of a Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee to stress the seriousness of teen-age drinking both within New York State and along its borders.

"I have urged him," she said, "to give this aspect of juvenile delinquency the extensive consideration it should have."

She said she is hopeful that if Hennings reaches conclusions similar to that of a House government operations subcommittee, of which she is a member, he will recommend to New York that the legal drinking age be lifted to 21.

In law, a riot is a disturbance of the peace by an unlawful assembly of three or more persons.

OrangeGOP Holds Up Blanket Okay For Senate Post

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—The Orange County Republican executive committee has balked at the idea of a blanket endorsement of Assemblyman Robert Walmsley of Upper Nyack, Rockland County, as successor to State Sen. Thomas Desmond of Newburgh.

Desmond, who represents Orange and Rockland counties, is retiring from the Senate where he has served since 1930.

The Orange GOP executive committee, which held a closed meeting here last night, adopted a resolution saying that an Orange endorsement of a successor to Desmond must be made at an open convention of the whole Orange County Republican Committee. Such a session was set tentatively for the week of May 11.

Walmsley was endorsed as the Republican candidate for the Senate April 22 in a joint statement by Orange Chairman Fred Mance and Rockland Chairman Milton Grant.

Walmsley said at that time he did not want to run for the Senate if it entailed any party controversy.

At the time of the endorsement of Walmsley, two Orange County men withdrew as probabilities for the Senate race to leave the way clear for Walmsley. They are Assemblyman D. Clinton Dominick of Newburgh and William Fitzgerald, former Middletown cornoration counsel.

The Orange executive committee resolution said that Dominick and Fitzgerald should be put back into consideration.

The Rockland County executive committee will meet tonight to discuss the Orange County development.

Aid for Investors

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said today he would issue a guide for investment in real estate syndicates for consumer groups, chambers of commerce, civic groups and the general public.

Lefkowitz said greater vigilance by investors is necessary as a result of Gov. Harriman's recent veto of a legislative bill intended to strengthen safeguards for investors in real estate syndicates.

The attorney general said the greater vigilance is needed especially on the part of those who invest in real estate syndications, mortgages and other types of participations in real property.

Elting Is Still Serious, Report

The condition of Floyd Robert Elting, 27, of Blue Mountain, town of Saugerties, who suffered first, second and third degree burns in a fire that heavily damaged his 1½-story frame dwelling early Tuesday morning, was reported "still serious" today by Kingston Hospital authorities.

The father of three pre-school children suffered severe burns and smoke poisoning when he attempted to rescue his son, Robert, 3, whom he believed to be sleeping in a small bedroom next to the kitchen. The child had already left the room, however, and slipped through the smoke to the living room before flames rolled up, engulfing the kitchen and bedroom section of the house.

The family lost everything in the fire, still of undetermined origin, and is now residing with Mrs. Elting's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grims of Mt. Airy.

Mrs. Harold Winchell, who resides across the street from the Eltings, reported to The Freeman that the family was destitute, needed everything — clothing, furniture, etc. She will be happy to receive donations for the family. Her telephone number is CH 6-6786.

The High Falls Park Home Bureau under the leadership of Mrs. Patricia McHugh has reportedly delivered a station wagon full of clothing, furniture, linen, toys, bedding, etc., to the family.

Saugerties Girl Is Still 'Fair'

The condition of Alice Abrehansen, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Abrehansen of RD, Box 162, Saugerties, who was injured when she fell from a horse in a field near Zena Saturday afternoon, was "still fair" today at Albany Hospital.

Miss Abrehansen, who will be 16 this month, was riding her black and white pinto, "Champ," when she apparently fainted and fell, striking her head. Bonnie Kaiser, 15, who was on another horse riding ahead, did not actually see Alice fall.

She was taken to Kingston Hospital, thence to Albany, by Schultz ambulance.

Schimmerling Announces Two Outstanding Recitals

Two outstanding recitals which are expected to make a unique contribution to the Woodstock Festival of Music have been announced by H. A. Schimmerling, music director of the Harmony Hill Concerts and Woodstock Elementary School.

The first program, scheduled Saturday, July 12, in the auditorium of the Woodstock School, will be staged in connection with the 10th anniversary of the State of Israel.

Schimmerling will present the music and dances of Israel, with Israeli guest artists and, also, a performance by the Israeli Philharmonic Orchestra with Leonard Bernstein, conductor.

The second program on Aug. 8 will be a lecture-recital, "Musical Phrases With the Accent on Youth." While designed especially for young people, it promises an evening that music-lovers of all ages will enjoy.

A variety of intriguing subjects will be offered in special programs for young people, among them: geography expressed through music; painting and music-colors and sounds; and, flowers and animals in musical compositions.

Since these concerts will combine live programs notes in lecture form, exhibitions of pertinent material—scores, pictures, etc., and performances by outstanding guest artists, each performance offers learning as well listening pleasure to satisfy young and old.

Mrs. Betty Schwarz, president of the Parent Teachers Association, is chairman of the committee which will manage and promote these events.

Others on the committee, which was organized April 23, are: Mrs. Anne Larys, vice-chairman; Walter Van Wagenen, finance; Madame Manorska, choreographer; Paul Greenberg, film projector and stage manager; Mrs. Eda Crist, publicity; Mrs. Jane Bromberg, local display and posters; Mrs. Alison Nichols, correspondence; and Mrs. Janet Greene, tickets.

The advisory board includes the heads of the music departments of area schools, including: Miss Winifred Bateman, director of elementary vocal and string music at Onteora Central; Miss Janice Peterson, head of the music department of Saugerties Central School; Harry Simon, director of instrumental music, Onteora Central School; and Leonard Stine, head of the music department of the Kingston City schools.

Nebraska Woman's Cure for Illness

An Omaha, Nebraska, woman, finding her eyesight beginning to fail because of advancing years, resolved that she could overcome the problem through complete reliance on prayer and an understanding with God. Her success in overcoming the eyesight handicap will be related on the Christian Science radio program over Station WKNY of Kingston Sunday, May 4, at 12:45 p. m. The subject of the broadcast is "True Vision Does Not Wear Out."

Baby Shower Given Mrs. Richard Hilton

A baby shower was given in honor of Mrs. Richard Hilton by a group of her friends last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hilton. The shower was arranged by Mrs. Edward Kruse and Loraine Juliano. Decorations were by Joe Hilton. Mrs. Hilton received many beautiful gifts and refreshments were served.

Among those attending were: Miss Beverly Freligh, Miss Loraine Juliano; the Mesdames Russell Stevens, L. S. Stowell, Joseph Juliano, Eugene Snyder, Clarence Snyder, William Waterous, Herbert Waterous, Harry Ecket, Natie Juliano, Joseph Hilton, Robert Henderson, Peter Koehn, Edward Kruse, James Burke, Thomas McCrosson, Charles J. Tiano; Asta Juell, Mrs. Hope Engelen and Mrs. Ida Taylor.

Rec Committee Adds Five New 1958 Activities

Woodstock Recreation Committee has voted to add five extra activities to the standard program which has proved so successful over the years.

A recent questionnaire circulated by the committee revealed that the standard program ranked highest in favor among 54 children who expressed preferences.

Five extra activities voted by the group are: nature study, hikes, model plane building, trout fishing and fly casting, newspapers and dramatics. They were the most popular choices outside the regular program.

These activities will be featured in afternoon periods from 2 to 4 p. m., Kermit Schwarz, committtee chairman, said.

Six prominent area artists and craftsmen have volunteered to conduct classes and study periods for the extra activities.

Dick Keller will teach model airplane building and Alf Evers, Woodstock artist and historian and Rodney Lethbridge will be in charge of nature study and hikes.

Ed Jurist, one of the top outdoor experts in the area, will teach fly casting and trout fishing techniques.

Councilman Tobie Geertsema, a former newspaper woman, will supervise publication of a playground newspaper and Edna Crist will be in charge of dramatics.

The committee's next meeting is scheduled May 8 when committee members, the playground staff and volunteer workers will meet with Sidney G. Lutzin of Albany, director of the State Youth Commission.

Little League Starts Work on Diamond

Woodstock Township Little League has started preliminary work on a plot of land for a new baseball diamond on the Bearsville flats.

League officials and workers have plowed the area and plan to get the field in shape as quickly as possible. It is hoped the new diamond will be available before the end of the 1958 season. In the meantime, the Little League will operate at Andy Lee Memorial Field.

Iron Works Sets Meeting Tonight

Woodstock Iron Works Motor Sports Club will hold its monthly meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Brass Rail in Woodstock. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

On the agenda is a discussion of the new emblem designed by Dick Stoltz. The club's policy on organized activities and group participation in local and regional events will be presented. Howie Humphries will conduct his second rally class which will be helpful to many. This will be followed by a short color rally that proves to be much fun for all present who care to enter.

The final plans are now released for the May 11 Gymkana to be held at the Grand Union parking lot in Saugerties. Registration begins at 12 noon with inspection of brakes, tires, etc. The main program starts at 2 p. m. There will be ten events with prizes and trophies awarded to the driver-navigator teams in the various car classes.

The club also advises to stay off the busy highways on Mother's Day and come to the Gymkana in Saugerties. As a varied program is planned, both expert and novice will be interested in this straight forward event sponsored by the WIW.

Democratic Club Moves for Action On Pollution

A move to see what can be done about local stream pollution was initiated by the Woodstock Democratic Club at an open meeting Friday, April 25, at the Kleinert Wing of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen.

Over 50 persons attended the program which featured a stimulating color film entitled "Clean Waters," produced by the U. S. Public Health Service and General Electric Co. The film stressed the importance of unpolluted waters, on a national and local level, for industry, food and recreation. A short talk by Alf Evers, noted Woodstock author and area historian, on the background of the local streams, revealed Woodstock's development to be a good illustration of this.

Grew From Streams

Woodstock grew out of the use of its streams by beaver trappers originally, then millers and sawyers. Names like Beaverkill and Sawkill borne by area streams are evidence of their history, Evers pointed out.

The film described various methods of sewage disposal employed by communities throughout the country to maintain the "clean waters" so vital to our economic and personal life. Two short United Nations documentaries on reclaiming deserts were also on the program.

In opening remarks, Kenneth Downer, president of the Woodstock Democratic Club, stated that although obviously Woodstock could not at this time afford to undertake a complete sewage system, still something should certainly be able to be done. He proposed a citizen's petition to be presented to the Town Board requesting that body to take steps to have an investigation made by the proper county and state agencies to determine just what can be accomplished. The idea was unanimously approved and petitions will shortly be circulated.

Articles for the club's annual rummage sale May 30-31 at the Shoe, are being collected. Collection depots are at the homes of Nancy Gilligan in Bearsville, Ken Downer in Zena, and Abe Kramer in Woodstock Village. For information and help in transporting articles, call Caroline Downer or Joan Cantine.

Joan Cantine, incidentally, has been serving as both corresponding and recording secretary of the club. She was appointed to the posts recently to fill unexpected vacancies. Regular elections of the club are due to be held in May, it was announced.

Jay-Teens Sponsor Talent Show May 3

The Jay-Teens, a club formed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Woodstock, will sponsor a teen-age talent show Saturday, May 3, at 8 p. m., at the Woodstock School.

Everyone is invited to the one-hour talent show. A dance for the teen-agers of the greater Woodstock area follows the show.

There will be no admission charge but a collection will be taken after the show. The group would like to express its thanks to the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church, for the use of the church basement for meetings and rehearsals and also for his personal interest and co-operation.

Fire Causes Smoke Damage at Legion

Arthur Di Napoli, who discovered the blaze, turned in the alarm and Woodstock Fire Co. No. 1 responded with both trucks and quickly had the blaze under control. The fire was confined to the cellar.

Father Recovers Third Child's Body Himself

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. (AP) —James Goble, a storekeeper whose three children drowned in the nation's worst school bus accident, personally recovered the body of his third child Wednesday.

Goble pulled the body of 12-year-old James Edward from the Big Sandy River near the fatal scene.

He has taken part in the search every day except to bury his children. Twenty-six youngsters and their driver died in the Feb. 28 crash.

Bulb Hatches Bird

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A baby kildee bird has hatched after a month under an electric light bulb. Its lusty chirps changed to coos when a hand was placed over it. A small display case at a Louisville tire store was the wild bird's incubator. The 25-watt light bulb kept the case at 90 degrees during incubation.

Second Meeting On Mazucca for Job Is Postponed

A second meeting scheduled recently for discussion of the request of former Patrolman Michael Mazucca for some type of employment with the local police department has been postponed, it was learned today.

Mazucca, who was injured some time ago while on traffic duty near the Municipal Auditorium, has been unable to resume full-scale duty with the department, and has since sought some type of limited duty.

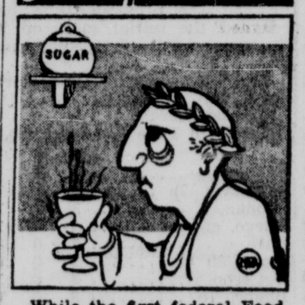

The police board was slated to discuss Mazucca's problem at its April 17 meeting, but District Attorney Howard C. St. John, Mazucca's lawyer, was unable to attend because he was then picking a jury in court.

St. John then asked for another meeting with Mayor Edwin F. Radel today to discuss Mazucca's problem, and it was slated for this afternoon.

One of two other persons interested, however, was unable to attend, and the meeting was postponed. Another date is to be set.

Peter Keresman, of this city, secretary of the New York State Police Conference, and Worthington L. Rider, of the Kingston Civic Association, have expressed interest in Mazucca's problem. They were at the April 17 police board meeting, and were due to attend the one called for today.

Matter of FACT

While the first federal Food and Drug Control Act was not passed in the United States until 1906, the problem of adulteration is as old as man himself. Centuries ago, the Greeks and Romans had inspectors to examine wine for artificial coloring and flavoring.

Trapped by Sugar

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Infuriated by repeated thefts from his farm gasoline tank, Ralph Hale dumped in 20 pounds of sugar. In a few days, he found that a vehicle had required a major reconditioning job because sugar had gummed up the motor. Said Hale, "That fellow's got what you might call a sweet running motor!"

Moscow Works Overtime To Gain U.S. Influence

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Russians are working overtime these days trying to make friends and influence people in the United States. The campaign has many facets.

The Moiseyev folk dance ensemble from Moscow is off this weekend to tour other American cities after a series of performances in New York. The three-score young people in the group are cultural good will ambassadors.

The new Soviet ambassador, Mikhail Menshikov, has been at his post in Washington less than three months. He is a sought-after public speaker. Wherever he goes he is out to sell the Soviet point of view, and he is reaching many people.

Another illustration of Soviet activity is this: Soviet representatives in Washington and New York have discovered the field of press relations which they previously ignored. Five Soviet press officers and attaches in the capital and three more in New York are cultivating American newsmen, inviting them to lunch, to cultural evenings at the Washington embassy and passing out occasional tips on diplomatic developments.

The most rapidly expanding field for Soviet propaganda in the United States, however, is due to come in a great increase in the number of cultural delegations visiting here. These delegations—the Moiseyev troupe is one example—will be arriving under an agreement providing for cultural, scientific, and other exchanges.

Each of the groups will reach a particular public. The famous Bolshoi Ballet is coming. Music lovers will have the chance to attend concerts by Soviet stars. Other Russian groups will come with more limited fields of interest—medicine, technology in some particular field, science and the like.

What all of this adds up to is that the Russians are making a determined effort to reach Americans in all walks of life. They seek to raise the prestige of the Soviet Union and sell the Soviet point of view on political and other issues.

The Democratic bill calls for 16 weeks of jobless payments to both insured and uninsured workers, with the federal government footing the estimated 1½ billion dollar cost.

Would Limit Benefits

The Eisenhower program would limit benefits to insured workers who have exhausted benefits under state systems, and require the states to pay back the estimated 600 million dollar cost after four years. The extension would be 13 weeks in most states, based on a 50 per cent increase in the present limits.

Catholic AA Honors John Raible, Oldest Active Bowler in Area

The Catholic Athletic Association bowling league last night combined its annual dinner with a testimonial to the venerable John Raible, oldest active bowler in the area and—until other records refute — in the Hudson Valley.

The CAA keglers gathered at Tommie's Tavern, High Street, to praise the 82-year-old veteran who began a distinguished bowling career in 1911.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Joseph Manello, secretary, James Kelly, treasurer and league president John Smith, all heaped praise on Raible, who has been associated with a number of leagues in the city over a period of years.

Helped Build League

A good share of the credit for the stature of the CAA league today is attributed to Raible who was one of those in the move to have alleys installed in St. Peter's Hall.

He was captain of the old St. Peter's team for about six years in an era when extra-curricular capers were not unusual and a case of amber fluid, highly suspect as home brew, was an incentive during a match.

Raible, although he participated in such levity during his younger days, was a bowler whose serious attention to the sport earned a high single game of 279 during his long career.

He was always considered one of the top five in City League contests and is a charter member of the old City League, and also was active in the YMCA Mercantile League.

The Rev. Joseph D. Ostermann, pastor of St. Peter's Church, presented Raible with a gift at last night's testimonal.

Kingston Netters Top Ellenville, Middies (21-in-Row)FoeTuesday

Playing a strong net game, Kingston High's tennis team won a 5-0 match from Ellenville yesterday on the road, but the action is expected to be tougher today when Coach Jack Gilligan's netters meet unbeaten Middletown High in Orange County.

The Middies defeated Poughkeepsie yesterday and extended its streak to 21 over a three-year span. Middletown has captured the DUSO title the past two years and is a strong favorite to repeat again this year.

At any rate, the Maroons are expected to extend the Middies just as the Bridge City did, having come from behind to cop both doubles matches to insure the victory.

Bob Strong, Kingston's No. 1 player drubbed Mike Newell 6-1 and 6-1. He teamed up with Charles Fuscardo to take the first doubles contest 6-0, 6-1.

Fuscardo, in the No. 2 singles, scored 6-2, 6-0; Pete Zeeh, Kingston trounced Jule Levitz, 6-1, 6-0, and in the other doubles, Tom DeWitt and Zeeh combined for a win over R. Boschman and N. Kramer, 6-3, 6-2.

The scoring of the Middletown-Poughkeepsie match was as follows:

Jeff Rosen (M) over Mike Effron, 6-1, 6-1; Bob Korn (P) defeated Norm Dubin, 6-3, 6-1; Ed Miller (P) was extended by Bill Benedict, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2.

In doubles, John Arfman and Benedict (M) won over Ed Miller and Phil Burckley, 6-3 and 6-4; Rosen-Dubin (M) topped Effron and Korn, 6-1, 6-8, 8-6.

Saugerties Sports Banquet Schedule Saturday at 6:30

More than 300 former athletes, cheerleaders, parents and guests are expected to attend the seventh annual athletic banquet of Saugerties High School in the elegant new Mt. Marion gym Saturday at 6:30 p. m.

Jim Konstanty, former National League MVP, will be the principal speaker. Konstanty, who played with five major league clubs including the Phillies and the Yankees, will show slides of a tour of Japan he took with the Yankees.

Other speakers will include William Ziegler, president of the board of education and Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools. William F. Straub, athletic director, will be toastmaster.

Additional program features include selections by the Girls Sextet under the direction of Miss Janice Peterson.

Awards will be presented to those boys and girls who have qualified for awards in varsity football, junior varsity football, varsity basketball, junior varsity basketball, and cheerleading. The Homemaking Department under the direction of Mrs. Mary Yost will serve the food. Mrs. June Myers, director of Saugerties Central Schools cafeterias, is in charge of food preparations. Eugene La Plante, director of art, has designed an attractive banquet program. Flowers for the program have been donated by Joe Benjamin's Flower Garden.

Goldback Lefty Checks Maroons on Three Hits

By TONY CORAPI
(Freeman Sports Staff)

A pair of fine looking southpaws hooked up in a tight pitching duel yesterday afternoon, but the nod went to Paul Schnitt, Newburgh Free Academy ace, who bested Bob Beadle and Kingston 1-0, at Dietz Stadium in the DUSO opener for both schools.

It was the second such defeat for Beadle, the Maroons' No. 1 flinger, who lost the opener to Saugerties. He pitched well enough to win, but the locals just couldn't do anything with the crafty NFA portsider, who gave up only three safeties and fanned 10.

The Goldbacks registered the winning run in the first frame on a hit by Bob Pavolovic and a one-base blow by John Pliego after Pavolovic had been advanced a notch on Jack Coonan's infield out.

From there on in, the two hurlers pitched very effectively. Each were touched for three blows and the only real threats put forth by the Maroons were in the second and final frames.

Gets First Hit

While John Bruck was grounding out to the pitcher, Sammons moved to the middle. But the scoring opportunity was eliminated when he was tossed out trying to advance on a ball which bounced in front of the catcher. Chick Boice followed with a walk, but Mike Carpino ended the inning by rolling out to shortstop.

Only One Genuine

Walt Harder, swinging for Ron Cockery then forced Barnes at second but moved into scoring position on a wild pitch. Coach Al Gruner sent in "Bruiser" DuMont to hit for Beadle. After fouling off two pitches, he became Schnitt's 10th strikeout victim.

Schnitt pitched excellent ball. Of the three hits credited to Maroons, only Sammons' was hit with any authority. It was a line drive smash to left, while Bruck's was an infield roller which he beat out when the shortstop was caught out of position. And Barnes' safety dropped in when the keystone combination got their feet tangled moving back for the looper.

Corkery Pulls Gem

The game's best play was pulled by Cockery, Kingston right fielder, in the seventh frame, when he retrieved Schnitt's solid sock and threw him out at first.

It could have proven real troublesome to Beadle since PeeWee Baynes followed with a hit. But he was picked off first a moment later, just as he had the previous time he reached the initial sack, on a fine move by the Kingston tosser.

The Maroons will be at Port Jervis this afternoon.

Reed's 1-Hitter Stops Fallsburg For Ellies, 10-1

Ellenville Central trounced Fallsburgh, 10-1 in the village DUSO opener yesterday on the winner's field. Jim Reed tossed his second one-hitter of the campaign in getting the defending champions off to a good start.

Reed fanned 11 and had perfect control facing only 24 batters. Two other players reached base on errors. Merl Lepkowicz started for the 'Burghers, but was lifted in the second in favor of Ted Kaplan.

The winner's hitting attack was led by Reed's two singles. Don Evans and Bob Eck each smacked doubles.

Kingston High Golfers Tie Poughkeepsie, 6-6

Kingston High's golf team, minus its captain, Fred Barthel, played a veteran Poughkeepsie High squad to a 6-6 tie in the DUSO opener yesterday on the College Hill course in the Bridge City.

Mike Bruhn, Maroons No. 1 player, had a chance to give the locals the necessary margin approaching the last two holes, but missed two short putts.

Richard Barthel, a brother of the team captain and a freshman, shot a 79 and earned 2½ points, as No. 4 player. He tied his foe, James Radcliffe on the first nine with a 41, but stroked 38 on the back nine against his opponent's 42.

Former Sawyers On Frosh Squads

They are Bill Zeilman and Don Whitaker.

Zeilman recently ran a 10 second, 100-yard dash and a 22 second, 220 to place first for Dartmouth's track squad as they defeated Amherst in a dual meet. Zeilman was only one-tenth of a second off the Dartmouth 100-yard dash record. The Big Green's 220-yard dash record is 21.4.

Whitaker is catching for Cornell's baseball squad and last week against Syracuse caught the complete game and batted clean-up. John Mustion, former Kerhonkson star, played centerfield for Syracuse.

The National Little League plans work days this Saturday and Sunday starting at 10 a. m. at Kingman Park.

All persons associated with the league, parents and volunteers are invited to help put the field in shape for the forthcoming season. Bring along a hammer, saw or shovel.

$25,000 Colonial Invitation Starts In Bad Weather

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The weather may be better fit for sailing than golf but the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation tournament is scheduled to start today barring a cloudburst.

Venturi, a three-time victor along the tour this year, is expected to lead the field of 46 pros and 2 amateurs although the favorite seldom triumphs in this tournament over rugged 7,021-yard Colonial Country Club course with its tight 35-35—70 par.

One of the celebrated "mudders" of golf—jaunty Jimmy Demaret—withdrew from the field Wednesday because he said he had a date with his doctor for a week-long clinical checkup. He was replaced by Tom Nieporte of Cincinnati.

Injury Jinx Haunts Herb Score Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herb Score is still having hard luck. The Cleveland Indians' fast - balling southpaw is nursing a sore elbow and may be out of action for a week or more.

Score took himself out of Wednesday night's losing effort against the Washington Senators when his second pitch to Julio Becquer, with two on and one out in the bottom of the ninth, hit the dirt.

Cleveland Manager Bobby Bragan hustled out of the dugout at that point to confer with the Comeback Kid.

"I told him I'd throw the guy a change-up or something but I couldn't even reach the plate with my last one," Score said afterward.

The 24-year-old hurler appeared well on his way back up the heights predicted for him this year. Last Wednesday he struck out 13 while blanking Chicago, 2-0.

Ellenville Vets Face Maybrook In Sunday Game

Upended by Goshen A.C. last week, 7 to 2, the Ellenville Vets stage their home opener Sunday against the Maybrook Farmers.

Oneonta - Paltz Meet Saturday, Haber to Play

Saugerties High Trounces Windham Central Nine, 14-8

Wolven, Riozzi Collaborate In Three-Hit Stint

Mormile Batting Ace With Double, Triple

Saugerties High gave eight runs away yesterday but combined 18 hits with 12 Windham miscues to trounce the mountaineers, 14 to 8, at Windham Central diamond.

The victory was the third straight for Coach Bill Straub's tossers, who got three-hit pitching from Barry Wolven, who went five innings, and Ed Riozzi, who pitched the last two.

Don Mormile, who blanked Kingston High as a pitcher last week, was the Sawyers' star hitter with a single, double and triple in five trips to the plate.

Saugerties Jayvees defeated Red Hook Jayvees, 8 to 4, yesterday, at Saugerties.

HannumExit Jolt to NBA

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks, world champions of professional basketball were in the market for a new coach today.

Alex Hannum, who led the team to second place in the National Basketball Assn. last year and shoved the Hawks into the championship this year, has left the team.

Several factors probably contributed to Hannum's separation from the champions, but the final decision may have come from lack of agreement between Hannum and owner Ben Kerner about the length of Hannum's contract. Hannum reportedly wanted a two-year contract while Kerner offered only one-year terms.

Dungey Scores Trio

Sawyer Trackmen Rout Wappingers, 60 to 26

Saugerties High School swept a nine-event meet yesterday to rack up its third track victory defeating Wappingers Falls, 60 to 26, at the Sawyer bailiwick.

Jerry Dungey captured three of the events. He won the 100-yard dash (11.5); 220-yard (24.9) and the team relay.

Fred Hornbeck ran the 440 in 56.3, and George Becker added another first place in the 880 with a time of 2:15.9.

A heave of 37 ft. 6 in. by Lowell Mayone in the shot put event was followed by Pete Cotich's discus toss of 109 ft. 9 in. Bob Wolven placed second in that field event.

Doris Hart to Give Tennis Clinic at New Paltz May 12

Miss Doris Hart, leading women's tennis professional, will be one of the experts who will present a tennis clinic at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, on May 12, according to Dr. Charles P. Wolbers, coordinator of health and physical education.

Sponsored jointly by the college and the A. G. Spalding & Bros., the tennis clinic is expected to attract numerous tennis enthusiasts in this area. Dr. Wolbers especially invited all interested persons in this area to attend free of charge.

Along with Mercer Beasley, famous tennis coach and a veteran member of the Spalding staff, Doris presents clinics and, (with other women players) exciting exhibition matches. These clinics and exhibitions are sponsored by Spalding to further interest in the game by teaching new players to become familiar with the rules and techniques of playing tennis; by aiding other players to improve their game, and by encouraging more persons to participate in this great sport which can be actively enjoyed even in old age—as witness the exemplary habit of King Gustav of Sweden, who in his seventies, plays tennis almost daily.

Miss Hart, when a child endured a long siege with a knee injury which kept her bedridden many months. Following this misfortune, Doris started her career at the age of ten and went on to win the National Girl's Title in 1942 and 1943, the Wimbledon Championship in 1951, and the U. S. Title in 1954 and 1955. Altogether, Doris has won 23 different national titles in her 20-year tournament career and has been ranked in the "first 10" for 14 consecutive years.

During the winter months, Doris has taught tennis in the South and in the summer, she has located in the North. In the spring of 1956, Miss Hart spent eight weeks putting on tennis clinics for Spalding in all sections of the country in cooperation with Spalding dealers and the Junior Development Committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. And today, Doris is still the roving good will ambassador of tennis, constantly increasing the numbers of more avid and also new enthusiasts of tennis!

Joy's Article In Outdoor Life

An article on trout fishing in Ulster County by Chet Joy, Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club veteran who is the piscatorial expert for the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County, is spotlighted in the May issue of Outdoor Life.

It describes in some detail the wonders of the Esopus, Sawkill and other trout habitat in the area and will prove of tremendous interest to all anglers who know of Joy's great skill and experience in that field.

Sharman's 23 Tops East in 144-139 Win

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Bill Sharman scored 23 points Wednesday night as the East downed the West 144-139 in the 17th meeting of the National Basketbal Assn. squads in their nationwide tour.

The East now holds a 10-7 edge in the series. They meet again at Louisville, Ky., Friday night. A crowd of 2,200 saw the pros in action here.

At one point in the fourth quarter, the East led by 23 points but the West pulled up close within a few minutes.

Pirates Kline 'De-Fences' LA White Sox Mystery Deepens

Control Stifles Dodger Hitters

The Associated Press

Kline gained his first victory and first complete game with that formula Wednesday night, cautiously spinning a three-hitter that beat the Dodgers 3 - 1 as the Pirates won their fifth in a row—the longest streak of the season in the National League.

Only one ball went to left field against Kline, Gil Hodges' RBI single in the fourth. He allowed only four other balls to be hit to the left side of the infield in a great control performance against a Dodger lineup that offered six right-handed hitters.

San Francisco banged back into first place with a four-home run, 10-1 victory over Philadelphia after the Chicago Cubs, also hitting four homers, had knocked off Milwaukee 8-2. Frank Robinson's second home run of the game gave Cincinnati a 5-4, 10-inning decision over St. Louis.

The Cardinals scored two off Joe Nuxhall, but got only three hits after Tom Acker relieved with none out and two on in the first. One was a two-runer homer by rookie Gene Green that tied it 4-all in the ninth and left the victory for Hal Jeffcoat, who got Del Ennis to hit into a bases-loaded double play in the 10th. Morrie Martin lost it in relief.

Daryl Spencer and rookies Bob Schmidt, Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport hit the Giant homers, for nine runs. Johnny Antonelli won his second.

Ernie Banks cracked two homers for the Cubs, teaming with Sam Taylor for two-run shots in the third that handed Bob Buhl his first defeat. Lee Walls slugged his eighth for the NL lead. Jim Brosnan won with a five-hitter.

Victories Easy But NBA Rating Eludes Bowdry

CHICAGO (AP)—Some day young Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis undoubtedly will gain a rating by the National Boxing Assn.—but not yet.

At least that's the opinion of Fred Saddy, chairman of the NBA rating committee, who Wednesday night watched the 20-year-old light heavyweight take a unanimous 10 round decision over veteran Clarence Hinnant of Washington, D. C.

The fight in Chicago Stadium was Bowdry's national TV debut and his ninth straight triumph. He now has a record of 22-2 and 18 knockouts. He never came close to a knockout of Hinnant, although he had him on the hook in the eighth round with a series of his chopping rights. But Hinnant wiped away the cobwebs and recovered strongly. The 25-year-old Hinnant is unranked by the NBA but is rated No. 8 by Ring magazine.

Judge Lou Capparelli had Bowdry ahead 48-42 under the five point must system. Judge Bill Doty favored him 50-43 and referee Walter Brightmore scored it 49-11. The AP liked Bowdry 48-42.

Attendance was 1,300, with a net gate of $1,141.

Top Coach is Retiring

CHEYENNE, Wyo., (AP)—Wyoming high school basketball coaches' hopes for a successful season next winter are a little bit better. Cheyenne Coach C. H. (Okie) Blanchard is retiring after winning 14 state championships the past 33 years. Blanchard's teams won 706 games and lost only 127. His 1957-1958 club lost to Gillette, 61-56, in the state finals, but still compiled an impressive 25-2 record.

Ted Kleinhans, former major league pitcher, is in his 12th season as Syracuse University baseball coach.

Early Wynn Fails Against Orioles

The Associated Press

The mystery of the Chicago White Sox's winless aces is deeper than ever today with Early Wynn, the winningest pitcher still in business in the majors, failing as a starter against Baltimore for the first time since the Orioles re-entered the American League in 1954.

Leaves in 7th

The 38-year-old right-hander, who has won 236, trailed 3-1 when lifted for a pinchhitter in the seventh at Baltimore Wednesday night and wound up with a 1-2 record as the Orioles won 3-2.

It was the first time Wynn had faced Baltimore since the winter trade with Cleveland that gave Chicago the "best pitching in the league." He had a 14-1 record against the Orioles for the Indians.

The Detroit Tigers looked the part of a contender, if the last-place White Sox didn't, clobbering the New York Yankees 10-1. Second place Kansas City, half a game behind New York, belted Boston 11-4, and third-place Washington beat Cleveland and an ailing Herb Score 3-2.

Strains Elbow

Score, 2-2, strained his left elbow against the Senators, who won on Julio Becquer's single in the ninth. Score gave up Washington's eighth hit and eighth walk with one out, then gave way to Don Mossi after throwing two balls to Becquer, subbing for Norm Zauchin, who had twisted a knee in the seventh. Truman Clevenger won it in relief of Pete Ramos.

Frank Lary won his first with a seven-hitter. He fanned six. Al Kaline had three of Detroit's 14 hits while Frank Bolling, Gail Harris and Red Wilson each knocked in two runs. Southpaw Whitey Ford, 1-2, now has lost three straight to the Tigers since 1956.

Bob Cerv upped his AL-leading RBI count to 21, driving in five for the A's with two homers. Ned Garver won his third without defeat, and first over Boston since 1955, with an eight-hitter. Ted Williams homered with one on in the Red Sox ninth.

Middletown High Names Whitehead New Grid Coach

The Middletown Board of Education last night announced the appointment of John C. Whitehead of East Stroudsburg, Pa. as new head football coach to replace John B. Nania.

Whitehead, who has been coach of East Stroudsburg Union High School for the past three years, was an all-Pennsylvania center at East Stroudsburg Teachers College.

His high school team had an overall record of 13 wins, 15 losses and one tie, during his tenure there. His best season was in 1956 when his squad compiled a 6-3-1 record.

Whitehead's appointment was announced by Superintendent of Schools Ralph L. Shattuck following an interview with members of the board. A spokesman for the group said that Whitehead was well qualified for the post on the basis of recommendations and record he had compiled in Pennsylvania.

He is expected to assume his new post following the closing of school there sometime after June 6. He will have authority to select his staff. Since the aides under Nania had resigned, it is believed that he will select his assistants among members of the school's physical education staff.

Front runners for the jobs are Ed Rodiek, former head football coach of the Middies, and Ed Faller. Both have good football background and are expected to be Whitehead's selections.

The new mentor is married and has two sons. He is a Navy veteran. No salary was announced at the board session. Nania received $600 for the job and Whitehead was receiving the same salary at East Stroudsburg.

Torrens Rolls 521 In Federation IL

Robert Torrens of Woodstock Lutheran topped games of 162 and 168 with a 191 in the Federation International last night for a 521 series.

Bill Flanagan capped efforts of 147 and 170 with a 203 high single for a 520 triple.

Immanuel Lutheran 2, Woodstock Lutheran 1; First Baptist 1, Trinity Lutheran 2; First Baptist (3) 3, Redeemer Lutheran 0.

Trainer Ivan Parke was a jockey in the 1925 Preakness and finished fourth on Chantey.

IL Teams Rely On Late Rallies

By The Associated Press

Wednesday was a day for the late big inning in the International League, and all the victors needed it to bring home the bacon.

Montreal scored three runs in the ninth inning to win its home opener 4-3 over Miami, Rochester cashed in on Don Lassetter's two-run homer in the eighth to nip Richmond 4-2; Columbus scored three in the seventh to edge Buffalo 4-3 and Toronto's five-run eighth inning topped Havana 6-3 in the Leaf's opening home game.

Dick Teed's sacrifice fly scored Jim Koranda for the Royals' victory over Miami. Clyde Parris started the comeback with a two-run homer in the ninth to help give Leo Cristante his first victory of the year. Dallas Green lost his second, though he held Montreal to four hits.

Johnny James pitched a 5-hitter for Richmond but one of the hits was Lassetter's homer. Joe McClain, in relief of Dick Ricketts who gave up a home run to Cletus Boyer, was the winner. Rochester trails first-place Montreal by a half game.

Bill Causion hit in his 13th consecutive game as Columbus had to sweat out a ninth-inning rally by Buffalo. The Buffs had the tying and winning runs on base with two out when Tony Bartirome had to reach over a rolled-up field canvas to catch pinch-hitter Pete Castiglione's foul ball for the final out.

Rudy Minarcin allowed eight hits, struck out eight and walked only two before 14,148 opening day fans at Toronto to beat his old mates. John Ivory Smith, a victim of poor support, was the loser.

Pacific Winds Enter Picture In Coast Ball

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific Ocean winds have blown into the National League baseball picture, aiding the San Francisco Giants whose power hitting has landed them on top of the league again.

Those prevailing sea breezes blow almost directly toward left field, creating unique effects for pitchers and fielders plus a lift for ball hit in that direction.

Wednesday as the Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 10-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Johnny Antonelli, four home runs rode over the left field fence — all of them by San Francisco and three by rookies.

These weren't cheap home runs produced only because of the wind, but it does aid a predominately righthanded hitting lineup such as the Giants present.

"My ball was jumping a lot. Anytime the wind is in a pitcher's face he should have more stuff then if it's blowing at his back."

16 Colts Named For 84th Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sixteen 3-year-old colts, headed by the stretch-running Silky Sullivan, fast-stepping Tim Tam, and tempermental Jewel's Reward, today were named for the 84th running of the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby Saturday.

There were two surprises as as the finely tuned colts were named for America's premier horse race.

A. B. Hancock, owner of the Claiborne Farm, decided not to enter Nadir, co-champion with Jewel's Reward of the 1957 juveniles. And Mrs. Lora Birr's Belleau Chief, conquerer of Silky Sullivan last Saturday, turned up with a near popped splint bone and won't race.

One the basis of 16 starters the mile and one-sixteenth race will have a gross value of $163,000 with a net of $118,900 going to the winner. It cost $250 to enter a horse this morning and it'll take another $1,250 to get in the post parade for the 4:30 p.m. EST start.

Other horses entered were, Flamingo, Gone Fishin', Lincoln Road, Benedicto, Chance It Tony, Martins Rullah, Jet's Alibi, Ebony Pearl, oNureddin, A Dragon Killer, Warren G., Can Trust and Red Hot Pistol.

Esquire Direct Cops Roosevelt Feature

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Esquire Direct, registering this third straight victory of the season, outstepped Adios Fancy by three-quarters of a length Wednesday night in the $3,500 Spring Festival Class A Pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

Driven by William Haughton, Esquire Direct advanced from fifth place in the stretch to complete the mile in 2:05 4-5. The 3-year-old, owned by W E.. Covnell and George Landers of Kittery, Maine, returned $7.80.

Leon Hart Ends 12-Year Career

DETROIT (AP) — Leon Hart, whose 12-year football career brought him headaches and headlines, has stepped down as an active player.

The former Notre Dame All-America end closed out eight turbulent seasons with the Detroit Lions Wednesday to devote more time to business and a new job that will keep him close to the world champions.

The huge 29-year-old, winner of the Heisman and Maxwell awards during his collegiate days, signed a one-year contract as a color commentator on the Lions' radio and television broadcasts. He owns an automobile dealership and also has been in the paving business.

Budweisers Roll 3198 In Bid for ABC Title

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The mighty Budweisers of St. Louis failed Wednesday night to unseat the St. Louis Falstaffs from the open team leadership of the American Bowling Congress.

The Buds totaled 3198, their best ABC showing in four tournaments, but the Falstaffs continue to dominate the show with their 3210 of April 10. The 3198 was good for fourth place, however.

Schoolboy Is Booked On 1st Degree Murder

MASSAPEQUA, N. Y. (AP)—A 15-year-old schoolboy has been booked on a charge of first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of a classmate in a high school washroom.

Bruce Zator was charged and held without bail yesterday for allegedly shooting down Timothy Wall, also 15, in a climax to a series of name-callings and fist fights between the two in the past few weeks.

Both boys were freshmen at Massapequa High School. School authorities said Zator had been under the care of a school psychiatrist for three months and only Tuesday had been suspended from classes because of truancy.

Dist. Atty. Frank Gulotta said Zator sawed off the barrel so he could hide the weapon under his jacket when he went to school yesterday morning.
